LINCOLN-WAY HIGH SCHOOL
CENTRAL CAMPUS
ROUTE 30
NEW LENOX, IL 60451

LINCOLN-WAY HIGH SCHOOL
EAST CAMPUS
ROUTE 45 AND COLORADO AVENUE
FRANKFORT, IL 60423

So, it doesn't look wild to you? To most people, Lincoln-Way would best be described as a "typical American high school." Others might go so far as to call it "BORING." However, when you throw 200 staff members and 3000 students together in crowded conditions, the result is anything but boredom. Think about it. Something crazy happened to you last week, right? Adults keep telling teens "these are the best years of your life." This may be true, but it doesn't always seem that way. But you can bet that in a few years, as you look back on your high school days, you'll decide it really was ... SOMETHING WILD!

- Chris Doell

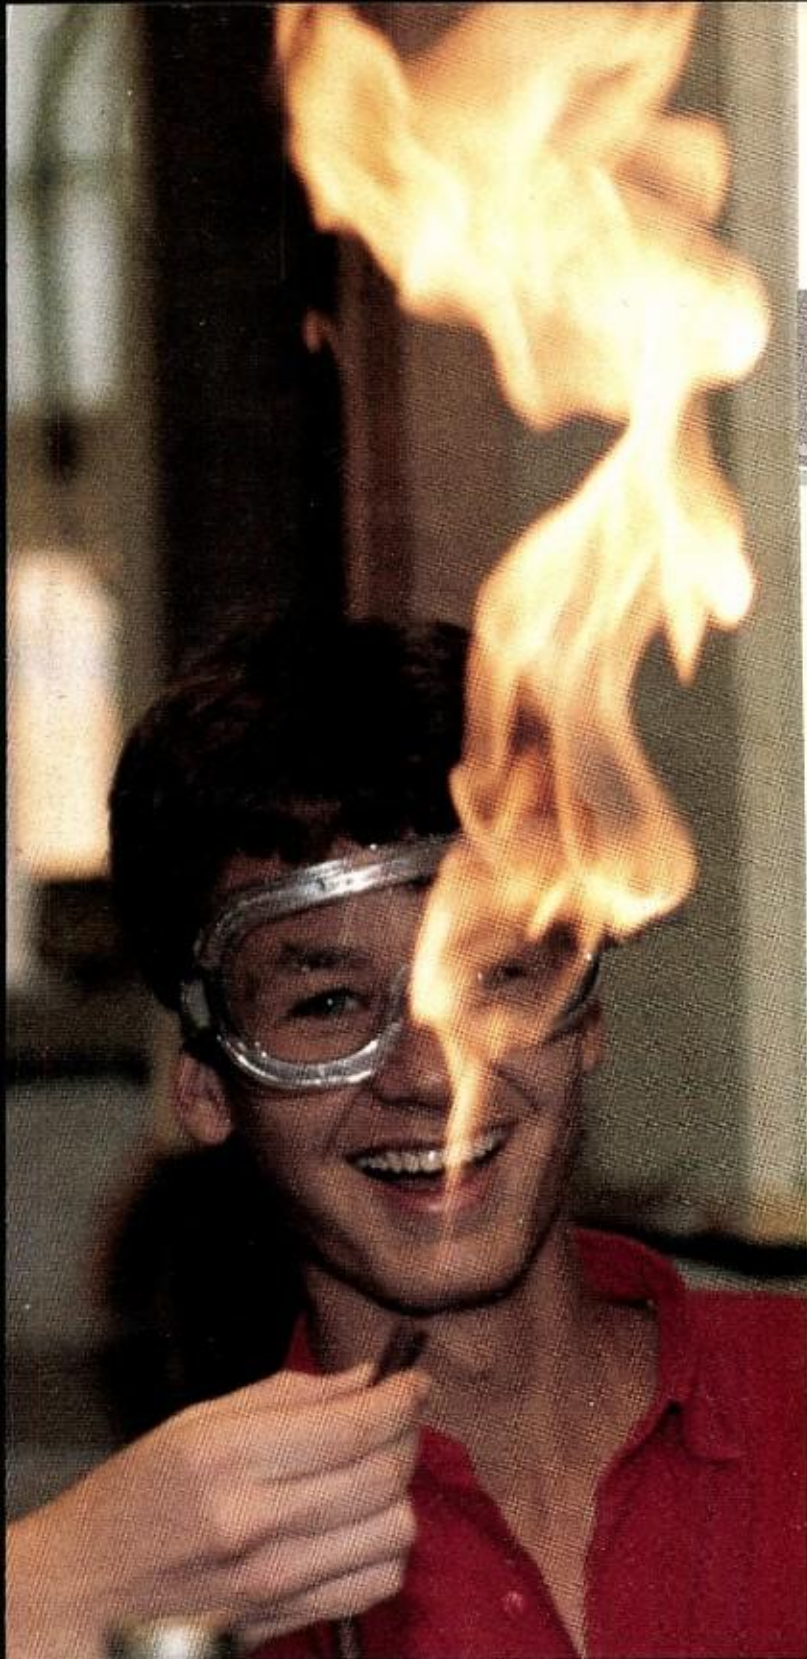

A group of East Campus students proves that the central campus doesn't have a monopoly on L-W's "wild side."

Have you ever seen three friendlier faces? Mark Powell, Dawn Watson, and Melanie Smego show a lot of teeth as they enjoy Homecoming Week activities.

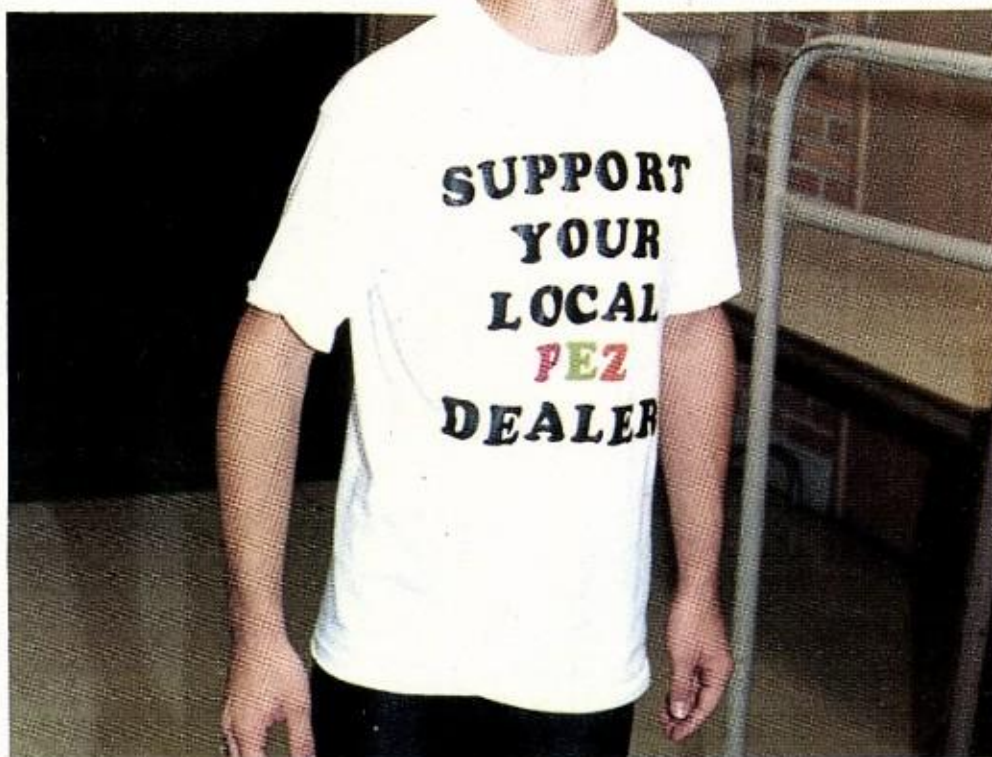

"Sometimes you run out of things to do in A-Chem, so you must improvise your own activities."

- Tom Dorris

What do you mean I was chewing gum? Junior Leah Madarik gets caught with the goods.

Just because it's Caribbean Tourist Day doesn't mean that Steve Hirsch can take the day off from dealing PEZ.

OPENING

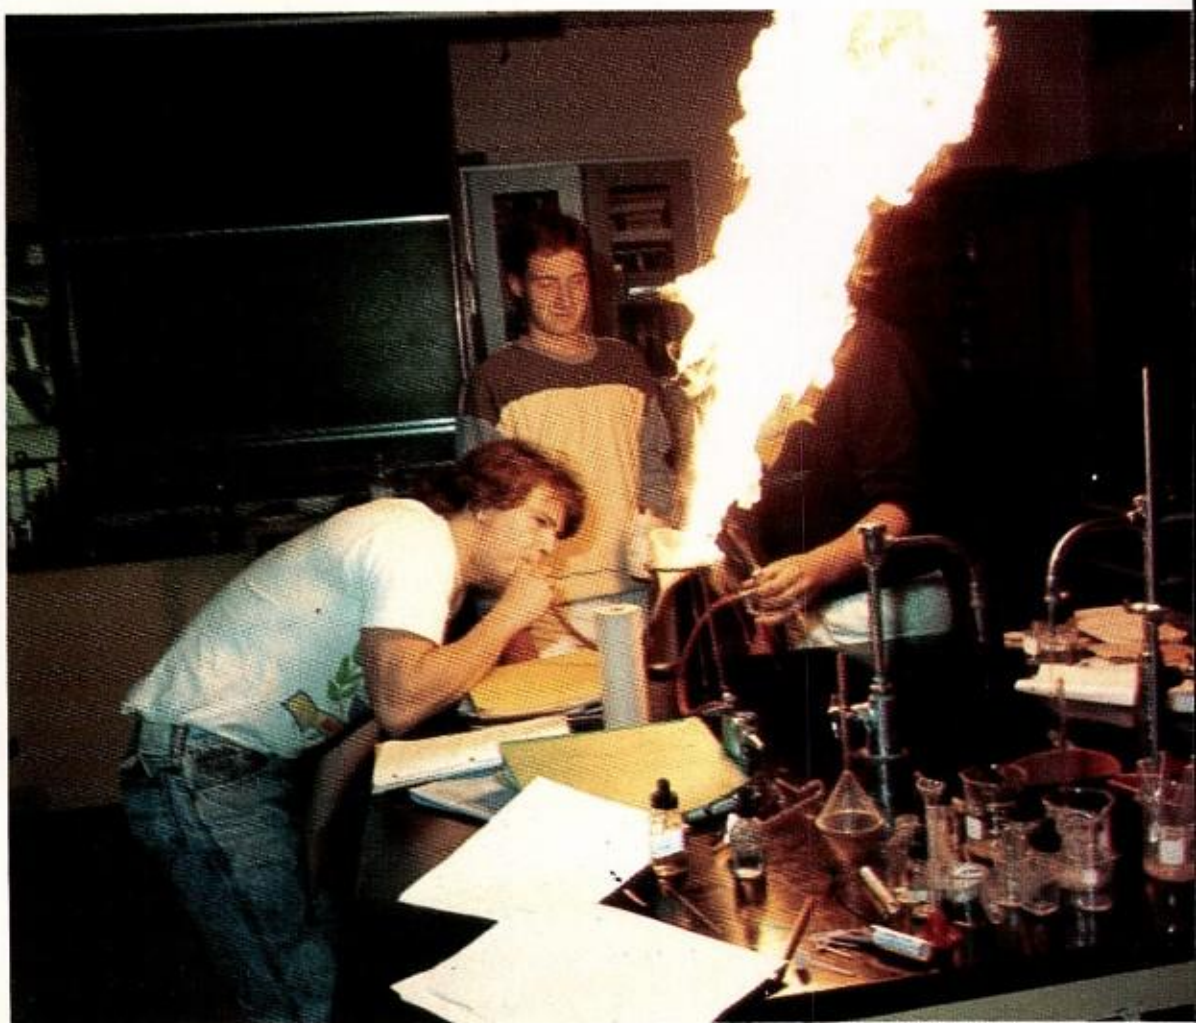

Everyone's definition of "classy" is different. To some people it means having money and prestige — or simply style. To others, it stands for something that has passed the test of time. But whatever way you look at it, everyone would agree that Lincoln-Way is a school with "class."

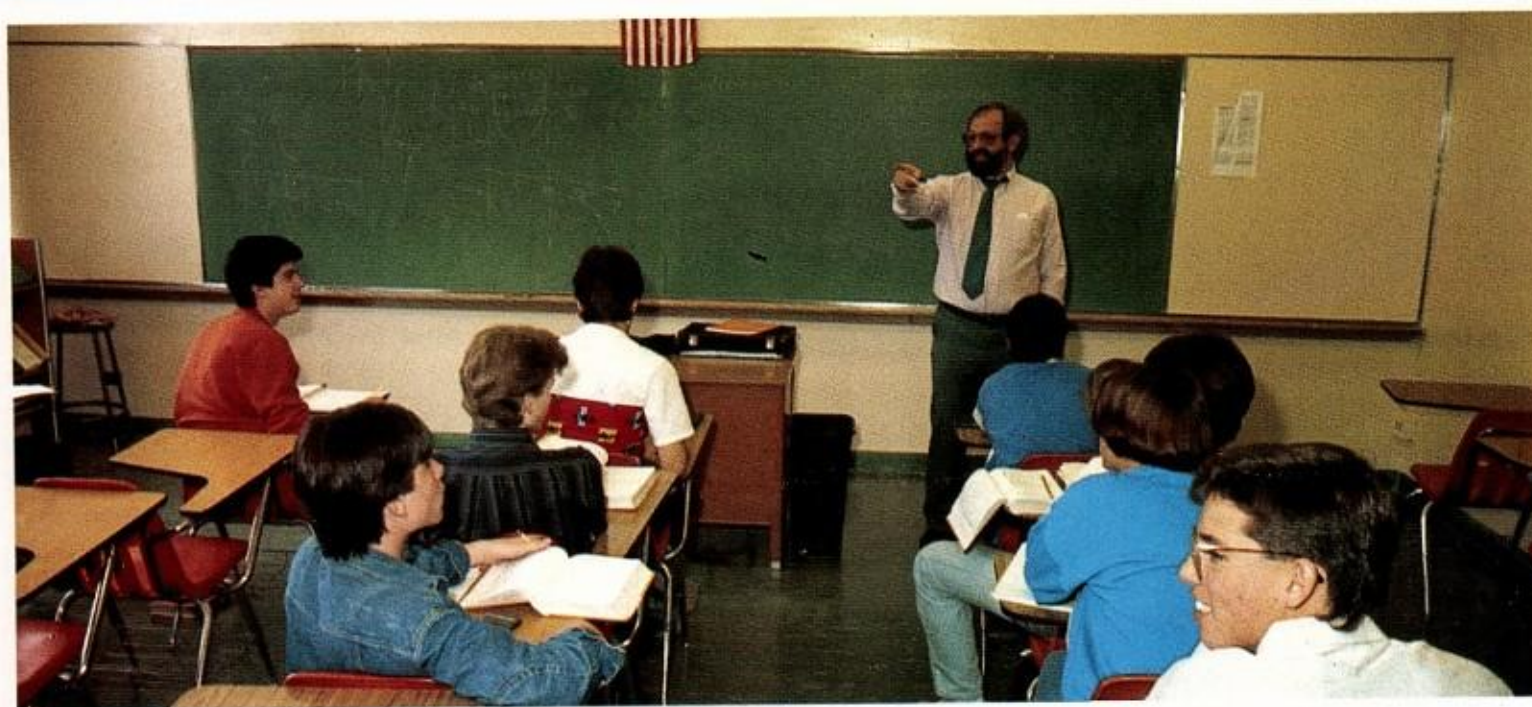

- Sonja Sloan

Even though the bunny doesn't belong to junior Julie Smith, she still likes to show it off. Tiffany LeGrand is the real owner of the stuffed animal.

Every now and then Julie Giampaolo and Lisa Deluca get a chance to speak English in their Advanced French class.

Even though passing periods are only five minutes long, sophomores Donna Hassell (left), Kirsten Landry (center), and Ann Brandolino still have time for a quick get-together.

Mr. Logsdon likes to get his 6th hour pre-calculus students involved in class participation.

Extracurricular... Extra effort... Extra special. Each of these is a little more than what's required. But here it seems to be the rule rather than the exception. Students spend their spare time and energy in clubs, at school functions, or just "bummin' around" with their friends. Their dedication to giving their all assists in making Lincoln-Way something extra-ordinary.

- Carl Gilmore

Avoid the Noid! Or, introduce yourself to Michelle Amwoza, one of the "best costumed" at the annual Halloween Dance.

Senior Brian Yunker gives his extra time to all of us, serving in the Army reserves.

In enemy territory? Jennifer Adams checks out the Rich South jacket worn by Valerie Gelsomino.

The football Knights' victory over Andrew gave students an extra reason to have a good time at Homecoming 1987.

Friends for 12 years, Joy Grissom, Laurie Walsh, Gina Gaffney and Gail Frankowski find themselves in the same Home Economics class. Do friends that cook together stay together?

HOMECOMING

On Caribbean Tourist day, Joe Mayer provides relief from the heat for Mr. Shields. Mr. Shields found an unusual outfit to fit each day of Homecoming week.

Homecoming Week brings out a little "something different" in all of us. It definitely had an effect on Shannon Hannigan, Dawn Lilly and Tracy Davis.

Letter sweaters and jackets from other high schools were popular during 50's day of Homecoming week. With a bright smile and her father's school leather jacket, Colleen Clark enjoys 50's day of Homecoming Week.

BLAST FROM THE PAST

Homecoming '87 was different, to say the least. Like the previous year's '50-ish homecoming theme, Homecoming '87's "Hold on to the (K)night" theme brought students back in time - way back - to the Middle Ages, in fact. The pep rally also helped make Homecoming '87 unusual. For starters, the Spirit Contest was not held, probably due to last year's triple disqualification. Still, the new limbo contest and the ever-popular trike race provided "bundles" of entertainment for everyone. Also, unlike last year's pep rally chaos, 1987's pep rally actually showed signs of "organization" (but that didn't take away from the fun!)

"Mr. Touchdown 1987," Jim Sledge, rises to victory with the help of teammates Scott Philip, Ken Seivert, and Paul Dvorak.

Sporting their "Hot Tub Club" shirts, Driver's Ed aides Shannon Hannigan, Dawn Watson, Christa Delaney, and Vikki Zimmerman proudly display the victory plaque after winning the hotly-contested trike race.

-Chris Doell

It's early in the limbo contest, and Stacy Valy and Mr. Sawin (the eventual winners) have no trouble clearing the bar.

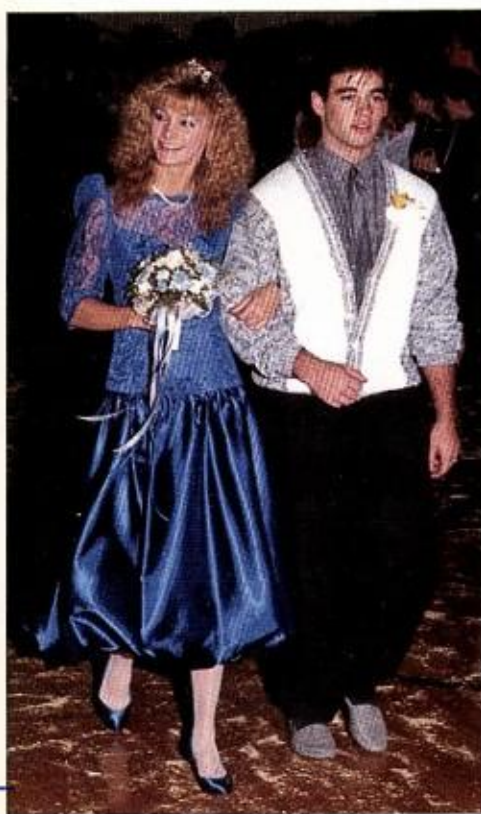

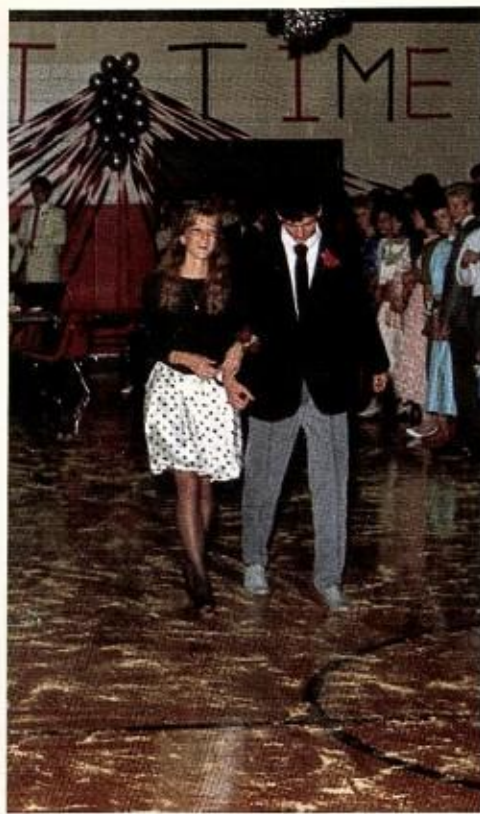

Creatively costumed for the evening, the "tuba guys" (Jeff Bella, Mike Corrigan, and Doug Mattsey) enjoy their moment in the spotlight.

HOLD ON TO THE NIGHT

Just when I believed
I couldn't ever want for more this ever-changing world pushes me through another door.

I saw you smile
and my mind could not erase
the beauty of your face.
Just for a while
Won't you let me shelter you.

Hold on to the night
Hold on to the memory
If only I could give you more.

IN SCHOOL AND OUT

Various activities keep students on the go

"BUSY" ... a word that can easily be applied to high school students everywhere. Even though school-related activities dominate available time, active teens manage to squeeze in many outside activities that add a little flavor to life. Steve Tomczak - as you might guess - spent as much of his free time as he could manage following the football exploits of his Chicago Bear brother, Mike. "I've followed him through his whole career," said Steve, "including high school and his years at Ohio State. Watching Mike was what inspired me to play football." NFL violence was not the activity of choice for Candice Kestel. She was involved in the glamour and excitement of the beauty pageant world, winning many awards in the process. "The pageants are the most exciting and thrilling, and yet humbling, experience I've ever participated in," said Candy. She and Steve followed the rule adhered to by most L-W students ... "the busiest of times are also the best of times!"

Chosen to enter Miss Teen USA and the Miss Illinois Beauty Pageant, Candy Kestel hopes to be in future pageants as she pursues a career in modeling.

Steve Tomczak discusses his favorite subject - football - with Mr. Michels. Although he is the brother of Bear's QB Mike Tomczak, Steve is establishing a football reputation of his own.

Nothing better to do? Angela Kovarik sizes up the foot long hot dog and finds it doesn't measure up to its name.

Dawn Watson and David Hoyt enjoy a Friday night out. Over the years, school sponsored dances have remained a popular weekend entertainment.

Joy Panzer and Michael Kushner take a welcome weekend "time out" by spending a night as special friends at the Homecoming Dance.

Fun & Games

From dancing to drawing

Something old ... something new. Teens never seem to have any trouble filling their free time. Two of this year's most popular activities included an old favorite - dancing, and a new craze - Pictionary. Dancing has always been popular, but with the new teen dance clubs, it's popularity is increasing. The opening of Mike T's in Orland Park really has everyone jumping. But, with the cover charge being about five dollars, it can get pretty expensive. That is why many students opt for school dances. Sock hops, Homecoming, the Halloween Dance, and various other dances throughout the year provide the chance for students to dance the night away for only about $1.50. A big attraction this year was the annual Halloween Dance. As usual, the costumes were very creative, ranging from a Dominos pizza noid to the tooth fairy.

Board games are also making a big comeback this year. Playing with friends or family is a lot of fun. The classics like Monopoly and Trivial Pursuit are still popular, but a new game is really starting to make waves. Pictionary is a board game that is played like charades, only on paper. You draw a word from one of five categories and your partner must try to guess the word within one minute. You don't have to be an artist to play; all you need is a good imagination and a fast pencil.

So, if you haven't given Pictionary or the Halloween Dance (or any other dance, for that matter) a chance, try it! Maybe you'll like it.

- Julie Quinn

Is sophomore Brian McSherry trying to make a point? With all the sweets that accompany Halloween, it's not too bad of an idea.

Julie Quinn struggles to decipher Cathy Clausen's interpretation of a shark.

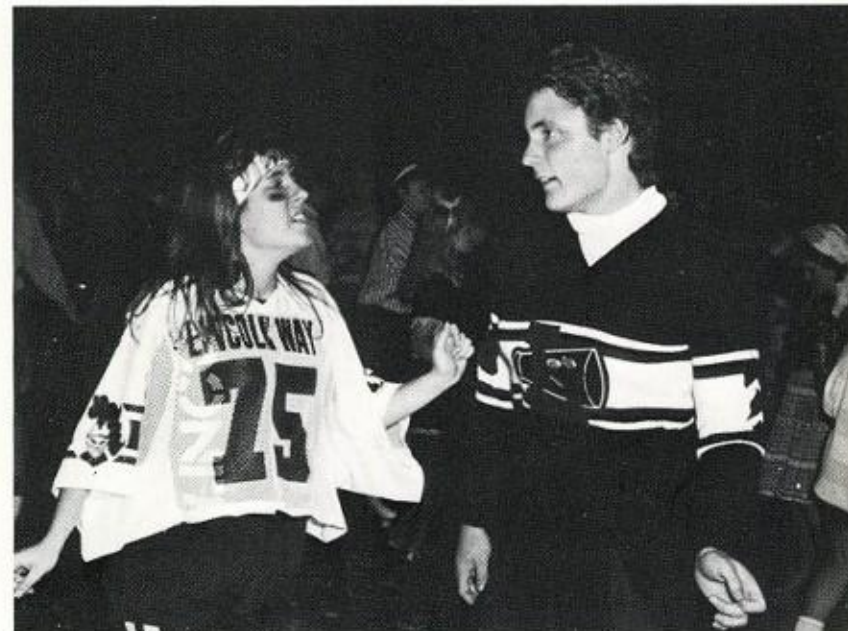

How would you do? Test yourself with these four Pictionary clues. 1. Morse code 2. Teepee 3. Black eye 4. Square inch Looking like the "cat's meow," freshman Beth Wilson has one of the more creative costumes at the Halloween Dance.

The rock group KISS may have provided the inspiration for sophomore Don Boettcher's costume.

Switching roles for the evening are fraternal twins Amy and Joe Stewart.

Cheerleaders work hard to support their favorites

This year's football cheerleaders started getting ready for football season as early as last spring, when tryouts were held. Cheerleader-hopefuls were required to perform an individual cheer and to make up, along with a partner, 2 original cheers. "Cheerleaders were chosen on the basis of originality and enthusiasm," said varsity football squad coach, Mrs. Rogina.

After the squads had been selected, it was time for summer camp! At cheerleading camp, the girls were taught new cheers and developed a dance routine. For the second year in a row, the L-W girls were chosen as the "Most Dynamic Squad" and were awarded, of course, a stick of dynamite (well, a fake one). This year, the varsity and sophomore squads qualified to go to Hawaii for a national competition, but had to decline the offer because of a lack of funds.

Once the summer fun is over, it's time for work. The girls had early-morning practices 2 or 3 times a week before and during the football season. Even though the girls only had to cheer at nine football games, they had to practice almost as much as the players. They also had to deal with the rain and cold that always accompanies football games. Soon, the football season was over, and it was time for the cheerleaders to move indoors for the winter.

The basketball and wrestling cheerleaders may have had a more hectic job than the football girls. First of all, the wrestling cheerleaders cheered at almost 20 meets, including a couple all-day tournaments. They also supported their favorites at the regional and sectional tournaments. The basketball cheerleaders didn't have it any easier

- voicing their enthusiasm at over 20 Knight games. It all paid off, however, according to freshman basketball cheerleader Sue Martenson. "The practices and early-morning games were tiring, but it was worth it when we could get the crowd's spirit into the game."

- Mike DeCastro
& Chris Doell

"What did I like most about cheerleading? Well, we got to wear some really nice skirts!"

- Jill Hasch

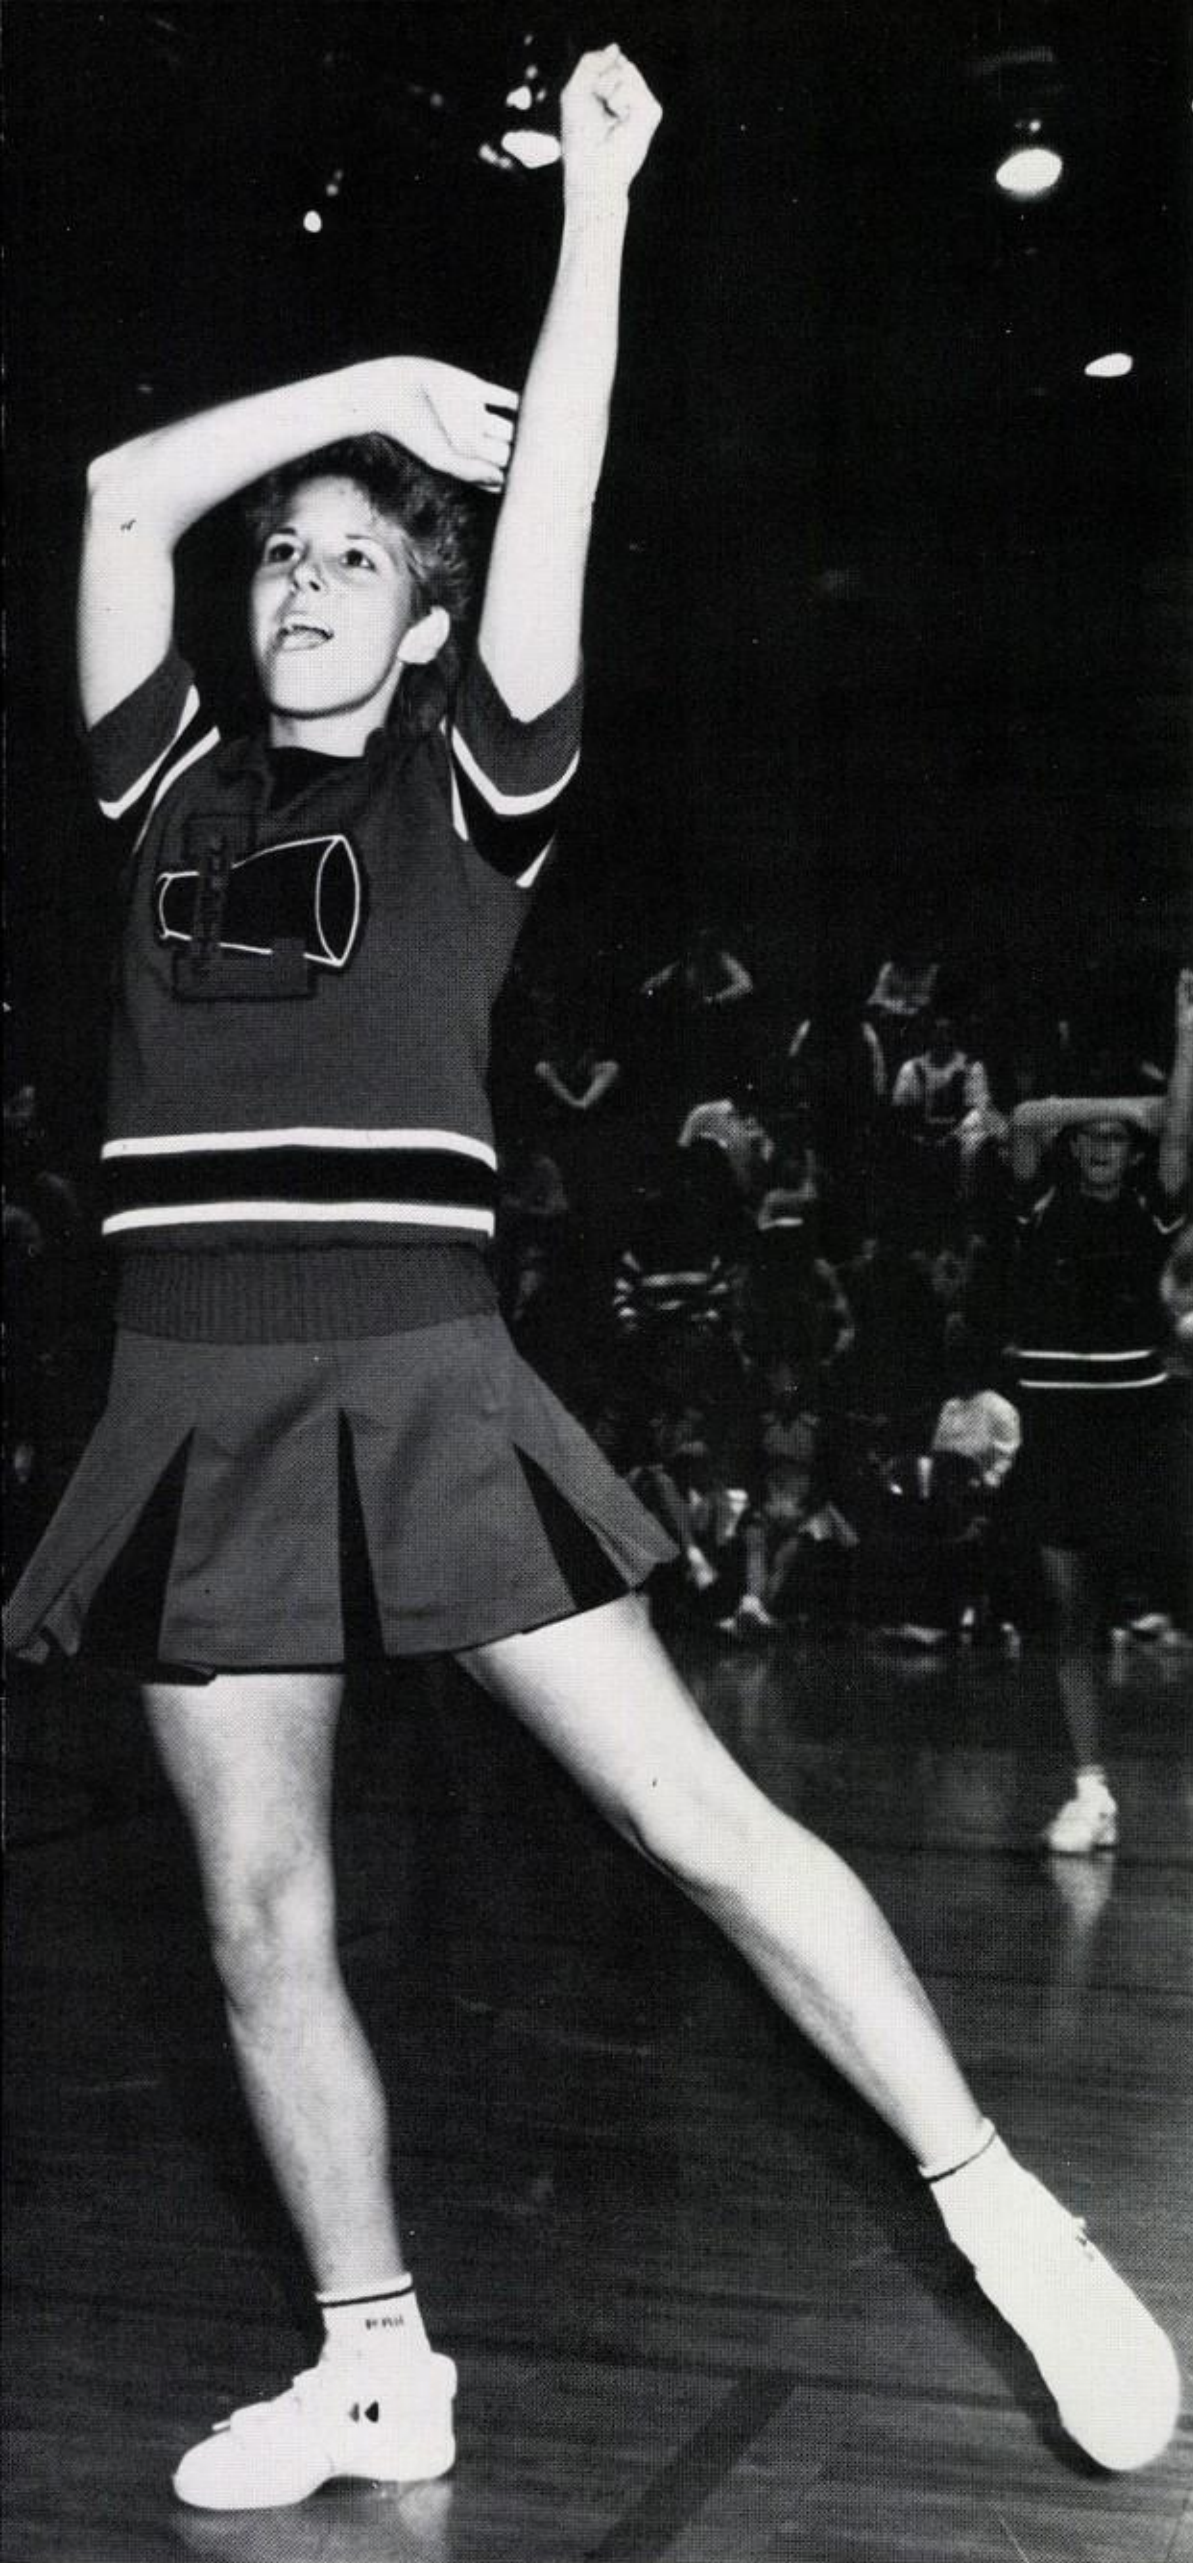

Is Dawn White asking for help from above as she cheers at a varsity wrestling meet at the East Campus?

"Even though the weather was at its worst for the Homecoming game, I did my best to cheer our team on to a victory."

- Maria Brick

Julette Strappazon was one of three cheerleaders who participated in both the football and basketball squads. The other two girls were Nicole Criscione and Maria Brcik.

"Do cheerleaders ever lose their voice? . . . Well, sometimes when I come home I might sound like Mr. Ed."

- Megan Slager, Freshman Cheerleader

Cheering her way through her first season, sophomore cheerleader Christine Batson believes "Cheering is not only fun, but a lot of hard work. It also gave me a chance to meet new people."

At a freshman basketball game in North, cheerleader Tracy Sereik is armed with a bright smile and a lot of school spirit.

Rhythm Galore

Competition squad adds new excitement

Numerous performances and competitions made 1988 another hectic year for the Rhythm Knights. This year was highlighted by their performance at the Illinois State Fair and their appearance on the local cable channel newscast.

The Rhythm Knights added a third squad this year, the Competition Squad. Most members had to practice six days a week since they were on the Competition Squad as well as their regular performance squad.

had to work hard at improving themselves. They weren't just being graded by the cheers of the crowd; they were being compared to other groups by experienced judges. During these often day long competitions, they were judged on creativity as well as the technical aspects of their performance. For their efforts, they

What?

Big Advantage • "Student Council is the only place where we can loudly state our somewhat opinionated ideas and not end up in room 144 after school." - Stacy Duchance and Cori Eggert

Who?

Active Member • "After being a member of Student Council for four years, I was prepared to accept the responsibility of being on the executive board." - Kathy Romanus

How?

Equal Voices • "Freshmen may not seem as important as seniors to some people, but we all get chances to say what we think in Student Council." - Hilary Buck

Why?

Most Important • "The things we like most about Student Council are planning for Homecoming and TWIRP and getting out of the meetings early!" - Erin Flannery and Debbie Wilmot

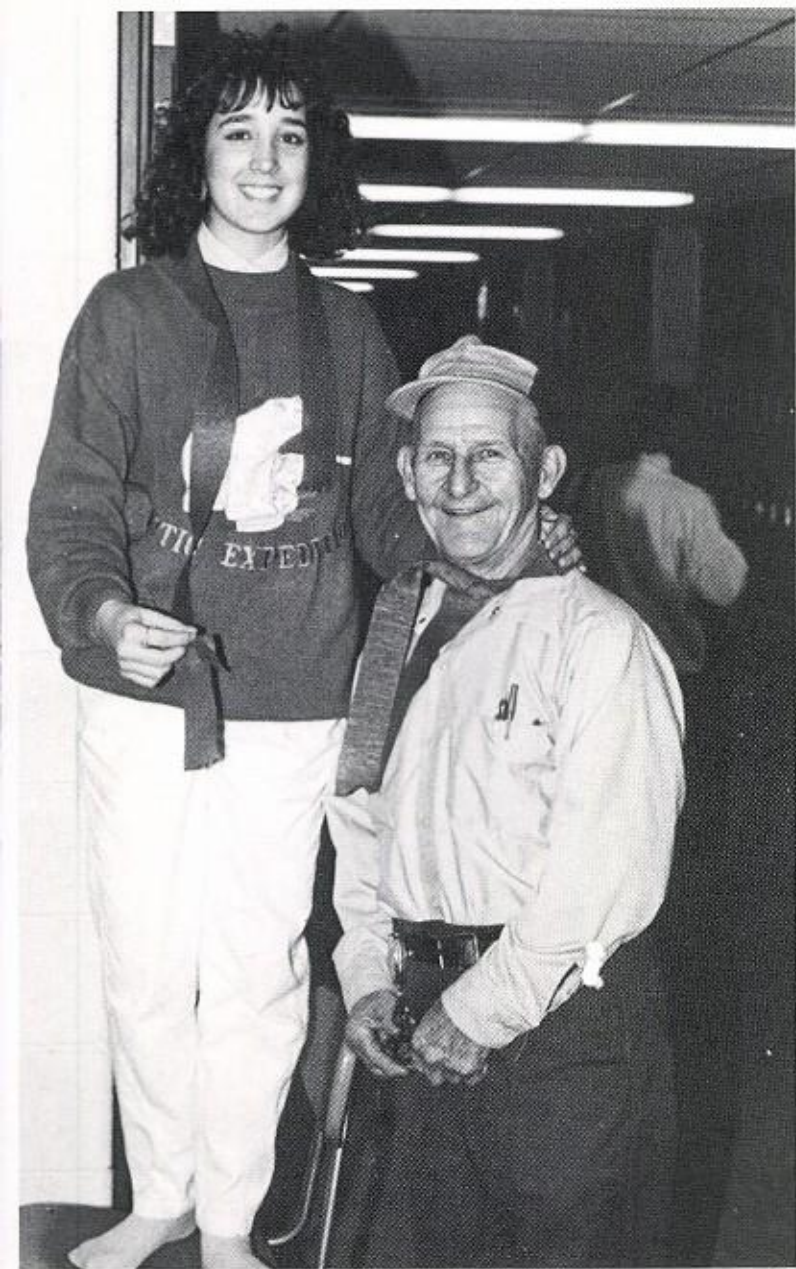

"Thanks to Student Council for nominating me, I was able to be a Homecoming court member." - senior pres. Michelle Sluis

At this meeting, sophomores Erin Flannery, Allison Kjelstrom, Pam Trainer, Peggy Hafer, and Kate Bridges get a chance to voice their opinions on TWIRP.

Jenny Marchert takes time out from "decking the halls" and decorates "Shorty" (Mr. Lauffer) instead.

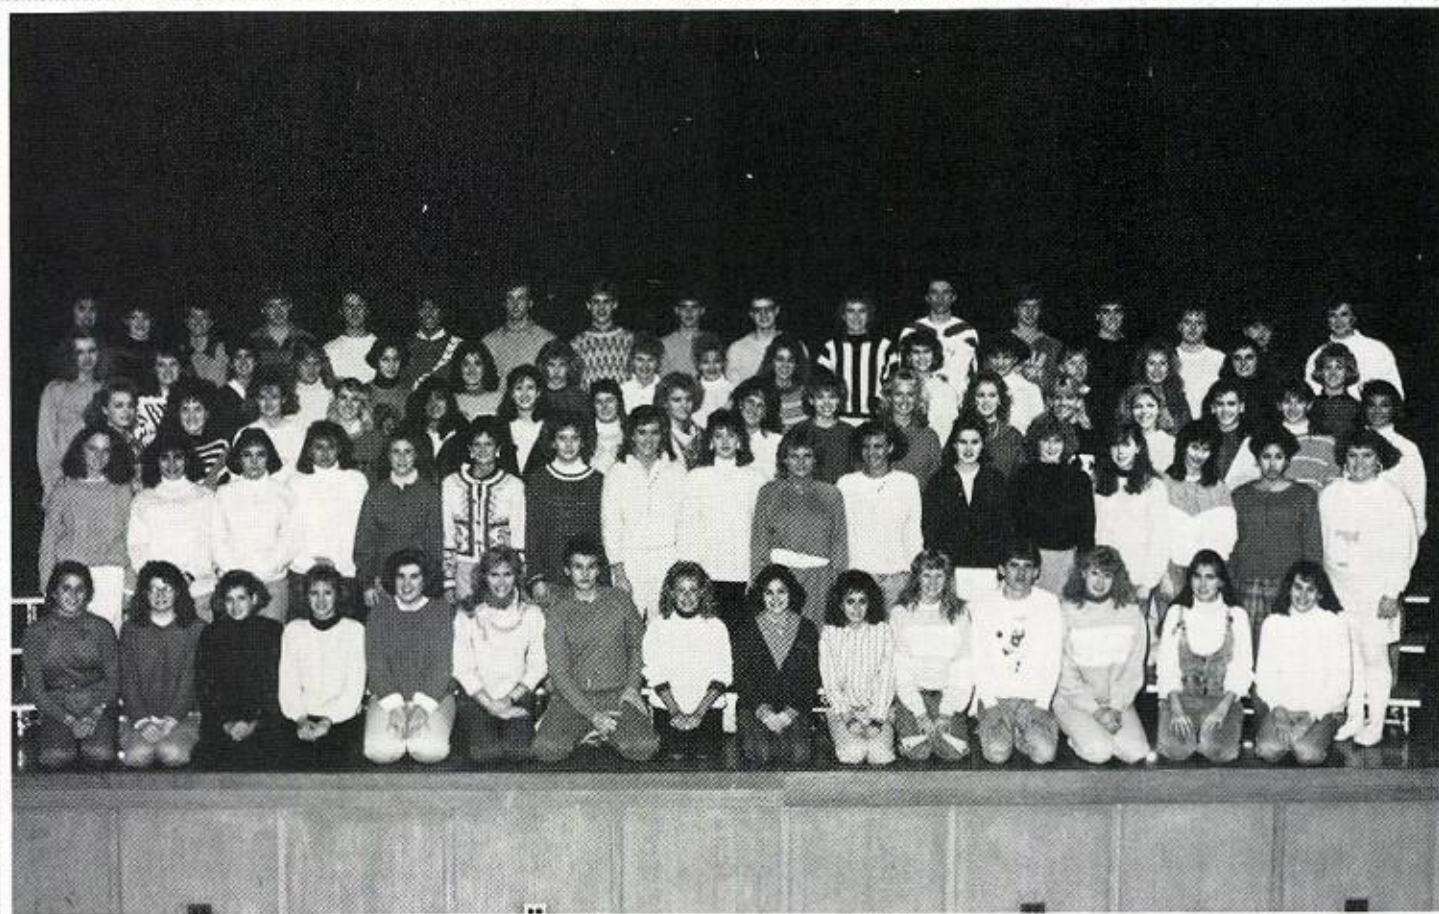

Student Council sponsors include Ms. Molitor, Ms. Goldrick, and Ms. Steward.

Rachel Tiggelaar, Kristine Wolf, and Keri Fraser enjoy a seemingly warm December day as they decorate the East Campus for Christmas.

Who?

Slightly Wacko •
"Everyone in art club is crazy, but we're artists. What's your excuse?"

- Sue Gemmell, Art Club Committee Member

What?

Many Choices • "The F.F.A. offers so many resources that it is impossible to measure. Computers, job planning, agricultural businessware and career aids are all available to the members, whether or not they are interested in farming."

- Matt Gramse, President F.F.A.

Where?

Which Side? • "Art Club is like taking a walk on the wild side!"

- Laurie Stadler, Art Club

Why?

What's Going On? •
"There are holiday get-togethers and fun days at Great America in the spring, and guest speakers once a month at our after school meetings."

- Mrs. Tighe, Sponsor, S.A.E.

"There was never a dull moment; but how could there be with so many creative minds?"

- Julie Stachura, Art Club Member

Art Club members spent many hours on their dance decoration project. Tim McElligott and Kevin McGuire draw the pattern for a full size silhouette.

Striking a pose with their cardboard friend are Art Club members Julie Janssen, Jennifer Washlow and Kevin Biksacky. The figure was to be used as a decoration for a benefit dance ("Blue Moon") at St. Jude's.

Medical Mayhem

"E/R" is a successful operation

Laughter proved to be the best medicine when the Theatre Company presented the play "E/R" (Emergency Room) in March. The play recalled the experiences of a full shift at the Lincoln Memorial Hospital emergency room in Chicago.

Jason Hedke played Dr. Sherman, a modern day Sir Lancelot, and Mike Flanigan played Dr. Sheinfeld, a man in a mid-life crisis. Tami Ericson was Maria, the receptionist, and Robin Eriksen and Sharon Strons were nurses Thor and Julie. New and "interesting" patients and problems confronted this unique hospital staff throughout the entire shift.

Off-stage, a controversy arose over several words and some subject matters that some considered "inappropriate" for a high school production. Eventually, the script was edited, and the play was performed as close to the original production as possible. Robin Eriksen commented, "Everybody involved in the play is used to having many parts switched around or taken out, so nobody was really surprised at this." In the end, Mike Dabrowski knew that the play would turn out well. "This is one of the better and closer companies that I've been a part of." He was right - the "E/R" operation was a success.

-Cathy Clausing

How can Jerry (Mike Dabrowski) not pull through with a medical staff like Dr. Sherman (Jason Hedke), Dr. Sheinfeld (Mike Flanigan), Thor (Robin Eriksen), and Julie (Sharon Strons) caring for him?

Mike Flanigan proves that there is more to producing a play than just acting, as he experiments with the lighting.

If Mrs. Surath (Chris Seppi) "has nothing better to do" she can hold the coat of her husband (Jeff Buck), as the receptionist (Tami Ericson) enjoys the action.

Seeing Double

Music men and women double cast

Oh, we got trouble! Right here in River City! With a capital "T" and that rhymes with "E" and that stands for EXCELLENT. Excellent describes the way that the fall musical, "The Music Man," appeared to the capacity crowds at every performance. Playing the leading roles were Mike Flanigan as Harold Hill, and Shannon Dugan as Marian Paroo. Flanigan had a part as a child in the 1978 production in which his brother played the lead. For Dugan, being cast as the librarian was a dream come true. "Ever since I was little I wanted the lead in the musical, and I couldn't believe it when I found out I was Marian!" she explained. The quartet, comprised of Jeff Buck, Chuck Cheesman, Steve Kummer, and Rob Prynn, was the "strongest ever" according to Mr. Stark.

Mr. Stark added a new aspect to this year's production. For the first time ever, a majority of the supporting roles were double cast. Mr. Stark double cast so many roles this year "to provide an opportunity for more students to be on stage." Chery Dyke and Amy Lankenau played Mrs. Paroo, Mike Krauch and Mike Dabrowski played Mayor Shinn, and Julie Pavich and Krista Wilfinger played Mrs. Shinn. Seven more roles were double cast as well. Of course, everyone would have liked to perform their larger role on all four nights, but as Curt Dyke commented, "It's hard to find a musical that fifty-five people can all have major roles in."

-Cathy Clausing

The quartet, comprised of Jeff Buck, Steve Kummer, Chuck Cheesman, and Rob Prynn, plans to continue performing throughout the Lincoln-Way area.

Harold Hill (Mike Flanigan) explains to Marcellus Washburn (Doug Mattsey) that the sadder but wiser girl is the girl for him.

The ladies of River City pick a little and talk a little about Marian Paroo (Shannon Dugan).

Harold Hill (Mike Flanigan), in pursuit of Marian Paroo (Shannon Dugan), is flatly rejected. Shannon (right inset) has been singing for twelve years. Mike (left inset) is the second in his family to play Harold Hill.

Double cast characters in "The Music Man" included Mike Krauch and Mike Dabrowski as Mayor Shinn, Julie Pavich and Krista Wilfinger as Mrs. Shinn, Amy Lankenau and Chery Dyke as Mrs. Paroo, and Curt Dyke and Jason Pranger as Tommy Dillias and Constable Locke.

Finishing Festivities

Triple-header closes the '86 - '87 school year

Seniors generally agree that their final year seems to drag on forever. Who added those extra months anyway? February - mistakenly referred to as the "shortest month" - lasts for an eternity, and even March, with its early signs of spring, can pass slowly. But then the weather breaks, spring vacation finally arrives, and the school year begins to roll downhill at a furious pace. The "Big Three" (banquet, prom, and graduation) make the final weeks pass almost too quickly. Seldom are more anticipation and memories packed into such a short time span.

1987's "Big Three" began on May 27. A sellout banquet crowd jammed the Holiday Plaza in Matteson and danced deliriously to the music of J.P. and the Cats - a '50's and '60's show band. The band was so well received that they were asked to return for the '88 banquet. Many of those in attendance still had on their dancing shoes just two nights later for Deja Vu - the '87 prom. Blue and silver decorations lit up this special evening, with music provided by RAVE. And finally "the event you've all been waiting for!" - graduation. When class president Matt Tadla had finished addressing his classmates on this beautiful June evening, and the last diploma had been distributed, seniors could look back on a long year that had concluded with a deliciously short and exciting month.

Just a little harmony! Ann Rosenquist and Roy Newcomb blend their voices for a special version of the "National Anthem."

Even though food wasn't one of the major attractions at prom, Vicki Zimmerman and Matt Tadla still find time to enjoy it!

Patti Brown finds that sunglasses are a necessity on this beautiful June graduation day.

Craig Brosseau and Kelly Malecki were chosen prom king and queen by their peers. Runners-up included Mike Tolimieri, Dave Ruggles, Brent Damrow, Eric Sommerfeld, and Mike Moustis. The queen's court included Rachel Black, Tyra Ringsrud, Lisa Young, Kim Aron, and Nicole Dombrowski.

Although the banquet room was the hottest place on earth that night, the heat didn't stop Brant Moustis, Sarah Mohney, or anyone else from enjoying themselves.

The band, "J.P. and the Cats," added to the "off the wall" atmosphere.

Jeanine Vanderbok and Rich Wroble find a small space on an extremely crowded dance floor to strut their stuff.

Band is one of the highlights of the day for senior Chris Kosel, junior Jeff Bella and sophomore Pat Hartney. Chris and Jeff are playing the sousaphone, more commonly known as the "tuba."

The Knights' trip to Florida wasn't all business. The Magic Kingdom provides a majestic background for band buddies Amy Damrow and Christy Hummel.

At the halftime show of the Hall of Fame Bowl in Tampa, Florida, the Marching Knights performed with 5 other bands after only three days of practice.

Hi-ho, hi-ho it's off to Florida we go!

Drum majors Kari Goetzelman, Brian Bouton, and Chery Dyke show off the 9 (out of 13 awarded) trophies the Knights won at the Hall of Fame Bowl Band Competition.

hhh, Christmas vacation! Sleigh bells ringing, children singing, chestnuts roasting, and marshmallows toasting around a warm fire. Not warm enough, you say? How about fun in the sun, yachting in Tampa Bay, walking Florida's beaches, or just relaxing by a pool? The Marching Knights got to do both. After spending Christmas with their families, the band took off for sunny Florida . . .

The Infinity, a yacht owned by a Lincoln-Way Marching Band alumnus, sailed into today's plans. After a tour of Tampa Bay there was a barbecue and beach party until sunset.

Tuesday, Dec. 29

The band spent today at Walt Disney World's Magic Kingdom. Quite a few students complained about the food. "The pizza at Disney World was like burrito rolls with spaghetti sauce and fake pepperoni," said junior Bert Dalmer. "We looked forward to the school's pizza boats," commented Paul Yanak.

Wednesday, Dec. 30

Today was the "World Showcase March" through Epcot Center. Unfortunately, not all the band was able to participate. The band was allowed to tour Epcot, but had to return at 11:30 a.m. to get ready. Christy Hummel forgot to set her watch ahead, and arrived at 11:30 a.m. Central time, one hour late.

Thursday, Dec. 31

The first practice for the Hall of Fame Bowl halftime show was held today. It was interesting coordinating so many different people from six bands into one routine. The parade competition, the first step on the road to glory, was also held.

Friday, Jan. 1

Today was the second step of the fairy tale trip. After another Hall of Fame Bowl rehearsal, it was off to the University of Tampa for the Field Show competition.

Saturday, Jan. 2

After a final rehearsal, it was off to the University of Tampa for the last time. After performing a pre-game show and at halftime with the 5 other bands, the rest of the day was spent at Busch Gardens. After the dinner, the awards ceremony was held. Nine of the thirteen awards presented went to the Knights. The rest of the night was spent celebrating in Busch Gardens, which was opened to all the competing bands.

"With all our travels and the different places we've performed, it's always the best playing for the home crowd."

- Junior Curt Dyke,
from Homecoming '87

Three trumpeters, Jeff Bouton, Scott Greven, and Jim Robertson, chalk up another hour of rehearsal time. "Being in the band is paradoxical," said Robertson. "Often I have questioned 'Why am I still here,' only to realize my mistake when rehearsing ends and the fun starts."

"I'm not in band just for the music, but more for the friendships I've made and the experience I've had."

Madrigals perform in double-time

Busy. That was the one word most often used by the Madrigals when describing their season of performances. With 22 performances in 20 days, these select members of the A Cappella Choir had little time for themselves. The Madrigals entertained hundreds at their Eighteenth Annual dinner concerts as well as captivating audiences at Sears Tower, Union Station, and Joliet Country Club.

"We had the best time in downtown Chicago because we weren't always singing for a set audience. Everyone just stopped and crowded around as they got off the train. They were excited to see us — little kids, adults, everyone!"

exclaimed Shannon Dugan and Rob Pryn. Chuck Cheesman, a two-year member, added, "We had some great times this year (and we got a lot of free food!). At every performance we would almost bust out laughing because the altos had to sing so much lower than the guys and they sounded pretty tough."

Even though the Madrigal members could never claim that they were bored in December, being busy had its advantages. As Jeff Buck explained, "As a group we've become very attached to each other, and special friendships and relationships have developed. I'm very glad that I was a part of Madrigals because of the good times we've had."

— Cathy Clausing

Chery Dyke's favorite time of the year is Christmas. She loves being in Madrigals because it helps her celebrate the season in an "out of the ordinary" way.

Singing doesn't have to interfere with eating. The Madrigals receive more than enough food at most of their Christmas festivities.

Dawn Davidson and Pete Mills perform "Wassail, Wassail" at one of their eighteenth annual dinners.

Shannon Dugan and Rob Prynn have been friends for thirteen years and now enjoy participating in Madrigals together.

Jesters Krista Reed and Mike Flanigan add humor and narration to Madrigal performances.

Dispelling the myth of the easy "A"

"I think I'll take choir. It's nothing but a blow-off class anyway." Although this may be the opinion of some students, choir members would provide a "chorus of disagreement."

Can they really expect an "A" on a silver platter?

"No! Chorus is fun, but you have to work also."

- Kristen Hodge

"You work the whole hour on different types of songs, and there is not a lot of free time."

- Jenni Popp

"Some people think it is a blow-off class, but if they had to do a musical, as we do annually, they would find that they were mistaken."

- Jeff Baxter

"No way! . . . because you can't just sing, you have to do extra things to get to your A or B."

- Shannon Dugan

"If you screw up, and you don't practice or you're unprepared, Mr. Kummer can pinpoint you and will fail you. It is embarrassing if you are not ready."

- Carrie Householder

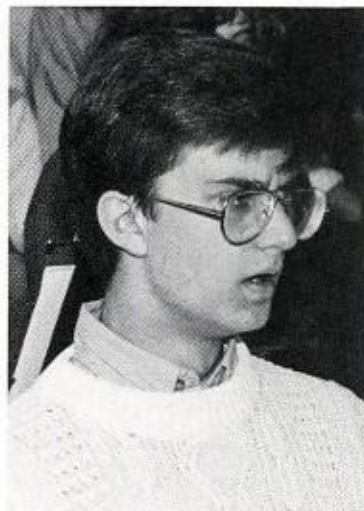

In truth, many choir members find that they put more effort into choir than any of their "academic" subjects. This shouldn't be surprising. To be good at anything takes time.

- Rashaun Smith

- Heather Crafton

The Lincoln-Way varsity football team had its 8th winning season in a row this year, but you wouldn't have been able to tell by the looks on the coaches' and players faces after the first four weeks. The Knights had an incredibly difficult opening schedule, which included state-ranked Carl Sandburg H.S. and nationally-ranked Homewood-Flossmoor H.S. After a 0-4 start, the Knights buckled down, won their remaining 5 games, and finished in 2nd place in the SICA West Conference with a record of 4-2.

Head Coach Bundy felt that inexperience was a big factor in explaining the slow start. The team included only 4 returning starters, but many individuals proved themselves on the field. Area coaches chose 5 Lincoln-Way players for All-Conference honors (senior Bryan Bruns, offensive end; junior Bill Havle, offensive tackle; senior Brant Moustis, defensive line; senior Bill Page, center; and senior Greg Stopka, linebacker). The Lincoln-Way coaches and players chose senior defensive back Jim Sledge as team MVP for the year and elected him Mr. Touchdown for the Homecoming festivities. Coach Bundy didn't single anyone out, but credited the whole team with the successful season. He gave

"the players and coaches a lot of credit . . . no one gave up, but (they) turned a season that could

Ups And Downs

Both Pluses and Minuses Are Part Of Frosh - Soph Season

The sophomore football Knights came within one game of tying for the SICA West crown this year. In a tight game, Lockport triumphed 6-2 to drop the Knights to second place with a 4-2 record. Lincoln-Way did get revenge, but with Romeoville as their victim. In the season finale, the Knights defeated the Spartans 20-7 to crush their hopes of a title. Many players stood out on the '87 sophomore team. Coach Duckworth described quarterback Joel Dzarnowski as a "solid performer" and a "good leader." Running back Ted Tracy led the team in rushing, and flanker Ron Gabrisko led the team in scoring. On defense, Robin Smith led the Knights in tackles, Mike DeBoer led the team in quarterback sacks, and Dave Thomas had the most interceptions and fumble recoveries. Coach Duckworth credits Rob Stanek with "providing a strong kicking game," and Rob was second on the team in scoring.

On the freshman level, the Knights were not as lucky. The A squad had an overall record of 3-6, and the B squad finished at 2-7. But according to Coach Paulsen, their play was better than that. He commented, "this year's freshman football teams are loaded with talent and potential, despite the records." "On the A level no loss was by more than 8 points, and usually came on a bad break or a costly mistake toward the end of the game." The team "... never gave up. Starting out 0-4, they continued to work hard." He attributed this "to the players. They knew they were a good team and they went out to prove it. They also had fun, which is really important, no matter what the record."

A Word From New Addition

"Unfortunately we lost more games than we won, but it was a great learning experience for the boys. What we didn't have in victories we more than made up for with enthusiasm and willingness to learn. All of us learned a great deal about sportsmanship and football."

Coach Lee Render enjoyed one of his most successful seasons in his twelve years of coaching the girls' tennis team. With talented players like Snake (Amy Damrow), Klutz (Vicki Long), and Yea Br-Br (Chris Moll), how could he go wrong?

The Knight tennis netters had a shaky start, losing their first two matches. They rebounded strongly, however, by winning a 2nd place trophy at the Marian 12-Team Invitational. They never looked back. Finishing with an impressive overall record of 10-2 and an undefeated 6-0 record in conference play, the Lady Knights also won their fifth straight SICA West Conference Tournament and their third Sectional Tournament in the past four years.

1987 MVP Chris Moll (#2 singles), Stacy DuChance (#1 singles), and Stephanie Bruch (#3 singles) all earned All-Conference honors. Stacy advanced to the IHSA State Tournament along with doubles teams Chris Moll/Stacy Graefen and Amy Damrow/Vicki Long. The hard work and dedication of the entire team enabled the Knights to continue their winning ways.

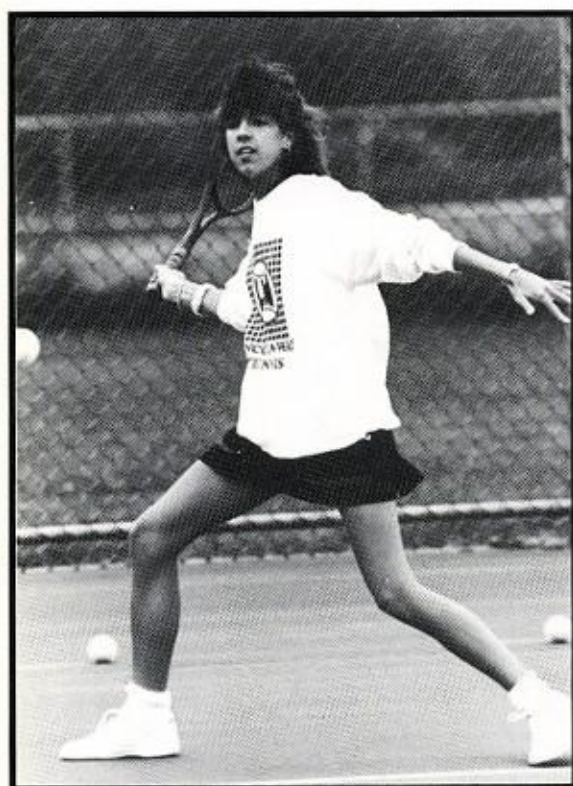

The frosh/soph tennis team, coached by Eric Byar, completed the season with a 6-4 record in dual meets and a 5-1 record in conference. The Lady Knights also earned second place in the SICA West Conference Tournament and a second place trophy at the Lincoln-Way Frosh/Soph Tournament. The success of the fresh/soph team indicated that future conference championships are clearly within reach.

Rebuilding Year Proves Successful As Knights Look Ahead

Susan Smutny

Coach Jess Krueger had to be pleased with the effort produced by his young and inexperienced girls' golf team. Considering the high level of competition they were up against, the team's 7-7 record doesn't tell the entire story. They finished an impressive third at the SICA West Conference Tournament (the first and second place teams won second and third at the State Tournament). Katherine Spiess was named MVP and Dawn Lee was named Most Improved. With seven of the ten girls returning next year, the team is looking for a lot of success and the fun that goes along with it.

The 1987 boys' golf season was described by Coach Michael Mirkovich as a "rebuilding year." But even though the team had only two returning lettermen, the Knights teed off to a respectable season. Mike Geary helped the Knights keep the season exciting and competitive. With five lettermen returning after this "rebuilding" year, the Knights are looking forward to the 1988 season.

Shutting Down The Opposition

Good Defense And Crowds Mean Success

Chris Doell

Once again, the L-W varsity soccer team posted a tremendous record, despite the fact that there were only two returning starters from the highly regarded '86 squad. Two factors that seemed prominent in the '87 team's success were strong defense and large crowds.

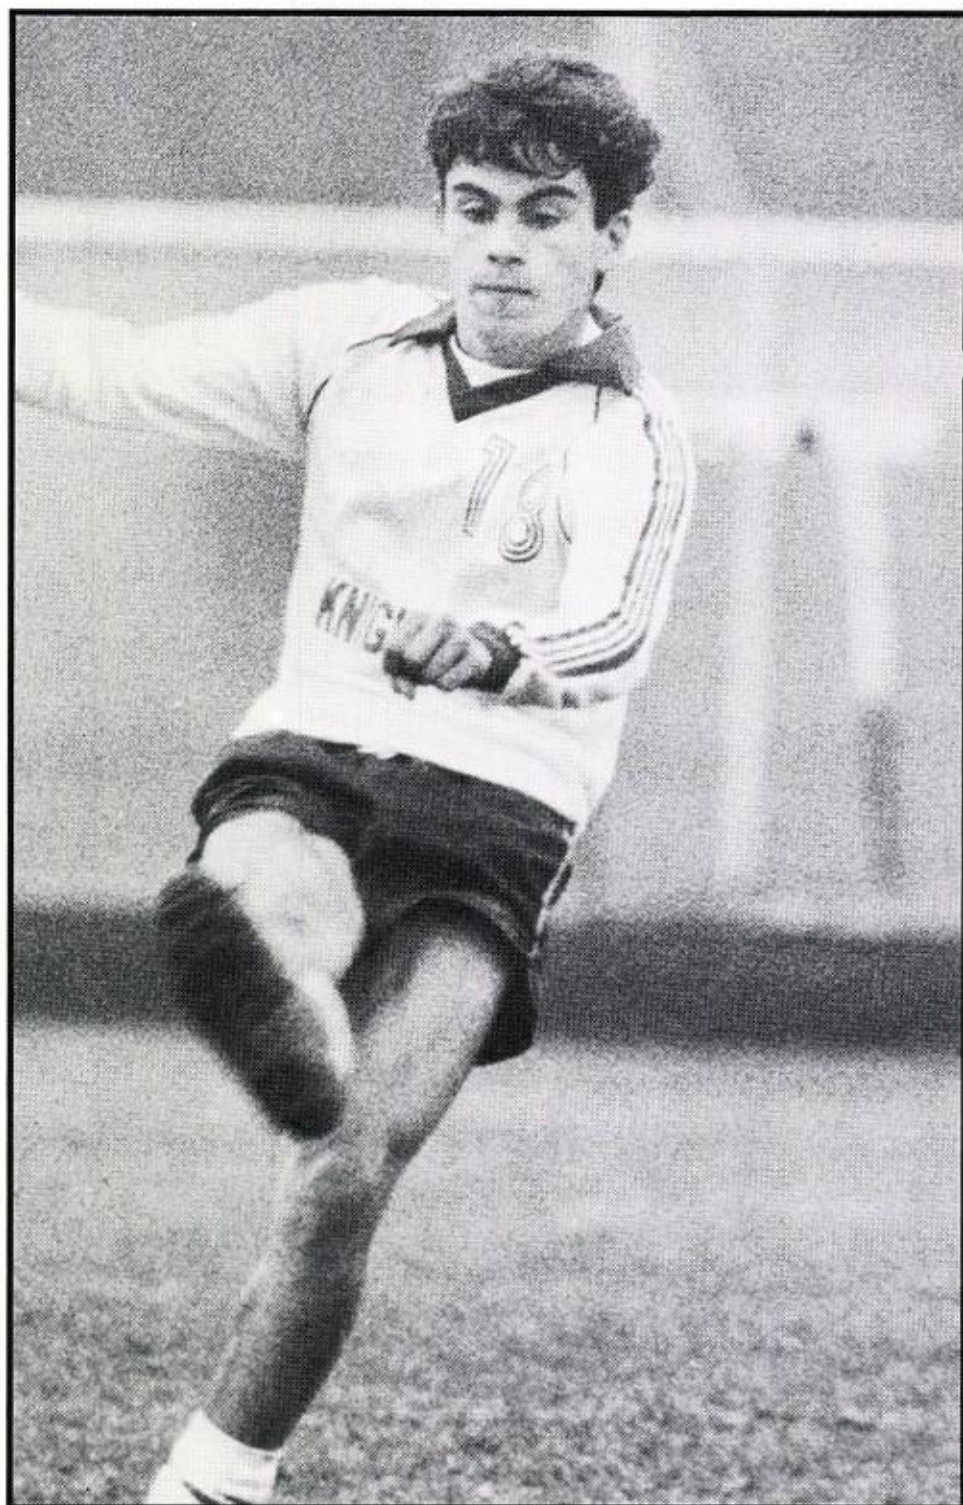

In their first 22 games, the Soccer Knights didn't lose once. Their first loss didn't occur until the first game of the State Sectional, when they were beaten by Naperville North. Still, the one statistic that can't be overlooked is the fact that, of their 18 wins, 12 were shut-outs. The members of the Knight defense, five of which were given SICA West honors, should be given credit. As junior Dan Malloy said, "With our great defense, it would be almost impossible to lose."

Another factor in the Knight's winning season was large crowds. Whether it was to see the soccer game or to see the Rhythm Knights perform at half time, more and more people were showing up for home games. Away games were not completely absent of Knight fans, either; many traveled all the way to the northern suburbs to cheer for the Knights.

"Rather than relying on brawn, I liked to use finesse to keep our opponents away from the goal." - Scott Roberts

The varsity soccer team was not the only L-W soccer team to enjoy success this year. Both the freshman and sophomore levels finished their seasons with decent records, showing steady improvement near the end.

The sophomores finished at 15 wins, 2 losses, and 2 ties, tying last year's team for most wins ever on the sophomore level. The '87 squad was the first L-W team to ever win the SICA West conference title at the sophomore level. Like the varsity team, the sophomores had an incredible number of shut-out games; in fact, 11 of their 15 wins were by shut-out. The '87 sophomore team finished with a string of 11 games without a defeat.

The freshman soccer team got off to a slow start, winning only two out of their first seven games. Still, the team finished the season with a record of .500. The freshmen, like their varsity and sophomore counterparts, also won more than one-half of their games

Sonja Sloan

A change from the past ... begins a new future." Coach Egofski used this phrase to summarize a very successful season. She felt that it was the team's "chemistry" that separated this team from teams in the past. Being "well-rounded" and "able to work with each other," the team proved to be terrific at tournament play. In the three tournaments they participated in, they took two first places and a second. In conference, the team went 8-4. Overall, their record was 24-8, one of the best records in the history of L-W volleyball. Team members agreed that the highlight of the year was a match against Lockport - at Lockport. Splitting the first two games, the Knights came back to win the match. This was the first time this feat had been accomplished on the Porter's home floor. Selected by her teammates as MVP was Janice Yaeger. She was chosen to Tinley Park's All-Tournament team along with Sonja Sloan and Tammy Koopman. This trio was also selected as All-Conference players, and Gloria Marcott received special mention.

The freshman and sophomore teams also did well for themselves. The sophomores placed first in the Shepard Gemini Tournament and the freshmen placed third in the Carl Sandburg Tour-

One of the sophomores that came up to help the varsity team was middle-hitter Lynn Wondrasek. She comments, "It was very rewarding working with older and more experienced girls. I enjoyed the season very much."

It was easy to see that this year's volleyball program took a big step up the "success ladder," and Coach Egofski plans to keep pushing them toward the top.

On The Run

After Twenty Years The Cross Country Program Is Still Running Strong

Susan Smutny

Talk about a success story! In the twenty years that the boys' cross country team has been competing, they have compiled an outstanding 190-31-3 record. The 5-2 record produced by this year's team kept that winning tradition alive. Described by Coach Al Logsdon as "extremely hard working," the Knights ran to a second place finish at the SICA West Conference Meet and advanced to the Sectional Meet for the eighth straight season. Individually, Jamie Barnes, Jim Maciukenas, and Ken Zion were All-Conference. Jamie Barnes also finished tenth in the IHSA state finals, and earned All-State recognition. Several freshmen and sophomores contributed to the team's successful season.

The frosh/soph cross country team was described by Coach Mike Davis as a team "with a lot of talent, considering the small number of runners we had." The team won all seven dual meets and finished second at the SICA West Conference Meet. They were also the Bloom Invitational Sophomore Champions. The experience and confidence that the frosh/soph team received this season will certainly help them to increase that growing varsity win column.

They began during their summer vacation. For some, this had been a way of life for years. For others, this was a new experience. Every day they ran a little longer, sweated a little more. In each mind, personal goals were set. Patiently, they waited for the season to start. When school began, their preparation was well under way. They practiced harder, ran stronger. In the heat and cold (which changed on any given day) - and in the rain, they stayed outdoors even when the weather drove just about everyone else inside. A group of girls, all of different ages, builds, abilities and personalities, attempted to blend themselves into a united team to produce the best possible effort and a successful season. Did they succeed? You bet!

As Coach Phil Hoffman looked back over the season, he felt that "approaching practice and competition with a positive mental set . . . proved the impetus to the success of this year's team." Although lingering injuries to Janet

-Chris Dileto

Maciukenas, Lara Mondragon, Ginger Panzer, Tobi Schuler, and Carol Weber hindered their individual goals, they still made a valuable contribution to the team. Exceptional efforts produced by Angie Kleber, Michele Cary, and Theresa Hardy helped to fill in the gaps when needed. The girls placed second at both the SICA West Conference Meet and the IHSA Regional; and they finished the season with an 8-2 dual meet record. They finished in the top five in three invitationals, including a second place finish at the Rich East Frosh/Soph Invitational. All-Conference runner Jennifer Jolas, who provided front-runner leadership throughout the season, was named MVP. With all seven girls who competed at this year's regional returning next year, the Knights hope to put their best foot forward and make it to state!

WRESTLEMANIA!

"Over-Achieving" Wrestlers Plan To Make Life Tough For Celtics

Chris Doell

The Knight Wrestlers raised a few eyebrows this season by surpassing everyone's expectations but their own. The Varsity Wrestlers got off to a roaring start with victories over #17-ranked Romeoville and #8-ranked Oswego. Within a week of these impressive victories, the Knights took a team championship at the 8-team Wheeling Invitational with strong performances by Dennis Maue, Rich Murry, Brian Ezell, Bill Havle, and Mike Burke. Paced by Erik Murry and Bryan Bruns, the Knights won the prestigious 16-team Rich Rocket Tournament over 2 more state-ranked teams — Andrew and Thornton.

With their record at 9 wins and 0 losses, the Knights suffered two major losses. In a 30-24 loss to Thornton, Mike Burke fractured his collarbone and was lost for the season. Mike was considered an "almost certain" state qualifier and his loss hurt the team for Conference and Regional competition. Feeling Mike's loss, the Knights dropped a 35-13 decision to Providence in a meet attended by 1500 fans. Still, the Knights' effort turned out to be the second closest match of the season for the eventual State Champion Celtics. The Knights turned things around, however, by winning the rest of their dual meets, with the exception of a forfeit loss to Joliet Central. This strong finish brought the Knights' record to a respectable 12 wins and 3 losses. In postseason competition, the Knights qualified six wrestlers for Sectional competition with strong showings by Rich Murry and John Pearson. Brian Ezell was the Knights' lone state qualifier this year at 112 pounds. According to Coach Reilly, with 2 tournament titles, 6 sectional qualifiers, and a 12-3 record, the Knights "over-achieved" this season.

successful, with the sophomores posting an outstanding 11-5-1 record. When the sophomores were at full strength, they were the toughest underclass team in the area. Similarly, the freshman team had a 17-1-1 record, highlighted by a consecutive 18-match unbeaten streak. With these strong underclassmen, the future of L-W wrestling looks solid. As Coach Ruettiger emphasized, "If these kids can stay together, they're going to be bumping heads with some of the best — so, watch out Providence!"

Setting Records

Young Varsity Team Tops Previous Seasons

Julie Quinn

The girls' gymnastics team had another successful and record-setting season. The varsity team set a new meet record score of 138.1 and finished 7-2 for the season and 5-0 in conference. The frosh-soph team finished 4-5 for the season and 3-2 in conference competition. The varsity team also claimed first place in the Tinley Park Invitational and were champions of the SICA Northwest Conference.

Four juniors, four sophomores, and one freshman comprised the varsity team. Even though they were young, they did not lack talent. Jenny Wold, the youngest member of the varsity team, really did her share this year. At the Andrew Freshman Invitational she earned first on beam, floor exercises, and all-around. Another exceptional underclassman was sophomore Nikki Campagnolo. According to Coach Jagman, "Nikki is very consistent and a strong performer. She handles herself well under pressure." These attributes helped her earn the all-around championship at the conference meet, and selection by her teammates as most valuable on the varsity team. Jagman thought that Cindy Giroux was "our most talented gymnast and hard worker." Cindy, however, was slowed by nagging toe and ankle injuries. Although many gymnasts have a dream of competing at the state meet, most do not achieve that goal. One girl who did was sophomore Diane Pearson. "You must be strong minded to be a good gymnast, and Diane does possess this quality," said Coach Jagman. Diane qualified for the state meet on the balance beam and was also the conference champion in that event.

"If you are willing, gymnastics is worth the effort," said sophomore Amy Hirsth. For the second year in a row Amy was voted Most Helpful, the person who best supports her team.

With the number of veteran gymnasts that will be returning next year, no one can blame Miss Jagman for eagerly anticipating next year. "We have a strong but young varsity team that can only improve in the years to come."

The narrow balance beam is one of the most challenging pieces of gymnastic equipment. Sophomore Diane Pearson's consistently good performances on this apparatus earned her a trip to the state meet.

Balance, concentration, coordination, and strength are used by junior Hanling Hwang to maneuver on the beam.

Sophomore Cindy Giroux is strong in many events, including the balance beam. She gets plenty of practice because she also competes on the Governors State University team.

Varsity Team has High Hopes For Next Year

Di Miller

The board shows victories. But the board doesn't tell the story. The story lies in the most part, in the basketball team's experience. First year coach, Steve Little, though, is optimistic for next year: "Hopefully the experience our younger players were able to obtain, coupled with the work ethics our seniors displayed, will lead our younger Knights to a more successful win-loss record in 1988-89." The results have already started to show. Sophomores Bill White and Tom McCoy made first team All-Tournament in the Lincoln-Way Tournament.

Hope For the Future

Provided by Improving Sophomores and Near-perfect Freshmen

Dan Bailey

On the surface, you wouldn't call the sophomore basketball team's season a major success. But look deeper and you'll find a feeling of overall accomplishment. Their 11-12 record hardly seems impressive, but remember they were 2-7 early in the year. They rallied to a 9-5 record during the second half of the season and managed to finish 7-5 in conference play. The tremendous improvement was evident on an individual basis, but, more importantly, as a total team effort. Any team that beats Lockport on the Porter's home court, the first time in Lincoln-Way sophomore history, must not be too bad.

If this year's freshman basketball team was a preview of the future,

"The players showed a great deal of improvement from the beginning of the year to the end."

-Mr. Cleveland

the Lincoln-Way basketball program has a lot to look forward to. Though they were small in physical presence, their amount of

"heart" was unsurpassed. Their near-perfect 24-1 record earned them the conference championship on the "A" level. The "B" team compiled a respectable 12-5 mark. The "A"'s 24 game winning streak set a freshman record. Their winning attitude helped them to become champions of the Rich South Christmas Tournament and to place second in the Tinley Park Tournament. Costa Panagos and Will Tuttle made the All Tournament Team at the Rich South and the Tinley Park Tournaments.

Rock and Roll

A Wavy Season For A Team With Many Highs and Lows

Jay Elder

After finishing with a 13 and 12 record (6 and 6 in conference play), it was apparent that the team had "many highs and lows," according to Coach Gutierrez.

The season got off to a good start, and at one point the team held an impressive 10 and 3 record. Unfortunately, the second half of their 25-game year proved to be not nearly as successful, as they won 3 of 12 games.

Tournament play, however, was good this year. The team received third place in the Hillcrest Holiday Tournament and were consolation champs at the Richards Thanksgiving Tournament.

"The girls played with a lot of character and desire."

- Coach Gutierrez

Individually, there were some very good performances. Mary Clarke was all-conference M.V.P., Southtown Economist all-area, and Hillcrest Holiday all-tournament team. Amy Wilson was also a strong performer and got an all-conference honorable mention. "Hard work and dedication made these two stand out," said Coach Gutierrez. Scoring-wise, Sue Schroeder led the team in 3 point field goals.

Congratulations to the team for another winning season.

Domination

Knights Capture Third Straight Conference Title

Susan Smutny

Just as the Chicago Bears have dominated the football world for the past three years, the girls' sophomore basketball team has become a dominating power in their own right.

Perhaps the only problem faced by this year's team was lack of height, but not even this could prevent them from winning their third consecutive SICA West Conference title. The Knights used quickness, hustle, dedication, and a lot of teamwork to overcome their height disadvantage and overpowered their opponents on their way to a 17-2 record (11-1 conference). They handed Sandburg their only loss of the season, beating them soundly 40-24.

Coach Tim Thompson felt that "teamwork was epitomized by this year's squad," and it showed in that the whole team contributed to their successful season. Offensively, the Knights were led by co-captain Megan Doyle in scoring and Larisa Wherley in assists. In Thompson's eyes, co-captain Jana Davis proved to be a "defensive dynamo," and received plenty of help from Megan Doyle, Michelle Horton, Brenda Parks, and Megan Dykstra. They combined their efforts to provide strong rebounding against a mostly larger opposition.

The Knights hope to transfer their quickness and aggressiveness to the varsity level next year, and lead the team to another conference championship.

The freshman girls' basketball team had an encouraging and exciting season. With fifteen girls on the roster, Coach Reed felt "they each had a chance to improve on their fundamentals, along with learning how to work as a team."

"This season was different. You never knew who was going to be mad at who or who was going to play a joke on you. Overall we had fun and we won."
-Barb Denney

The Knights placed fourth at the St. Francis Tournament, and finished the season with a 15-6 record (8-2 conference). The team showed their improvement and ability by defeating every conference team in the second round. The girls enjoyed themselves both on and off the court, making all of the long and sometimes exhausting practices worthwhile.

Coach Thompson shows his team a new plan of attack during a time out.

"The highlight of our season was our game against Maine West in which we defeated them. They were ranked #1 in the nation and had an undefeated record until we played them. It was an AWESOME game!"

-Larisa Wherley

A Word From New Addition

"With the combined duties of being a first year teacher and coach, I sometimes found myself running around so much that I hardly found time to get all my work done. But as the season moved along, things fell right in place for both the players and me."

-Coach Reed

"This season was very challenging, but we made it through as a team!"

The Knights Head For Yet Another Season of Consistent Wins

Michael deCastro

Consistency is a major part of a winning game in tennis; and consistency is an attribute shared by many L-W tennis players. What else would explain a varsity program that has never experienced a losing season? Someone must be doing something right! The 1988 campaign promised to deliver

Larry Yelaska, Chris Lintner and Mike O'Boyle. No one could afford to rest on previous accomplishments. Although Joliet West and Andrew would have fine teams, Coach Little was convinced that his group had a good shot at a conference championship. Several team members set their goals even higher, with their eyes on the state tournament. Consistency, competition, and high goals - all working together to provide another great tennis season.

-Scott Roberts

Coach Little definitely has a good track record as a tennis coach. While he has been the coach, the varsity team has never had a losing season.

At an after-school practice at the East Campus, senior Jay Picha works on his forehand stroke. Jay didn't play tennis as a junior, but he hopes to make an important contribution to this year's team.

Senior Tom Michalek is one of the most promising players for this season. During a practice match, Tom shows the form that will hopefully bring him a conference championship.

It was March. The spring weather had just begun, but the boys' and girls' track seasons were in full swing. The boys began by proving that they had a very strong chance to be conference champs. The overall strength of the team was demonstrated at the ISU and Charleston Invitionals. At both meets, Matt Klemp took first place in the 400m dash and Jim Sledge took first place in high hurdles, and at ISU, Jamie Barnes took second in the two mile run. "We have a lot of confidence this year and there is no doubt in my mind that we'll win conference," stated Matt Klemp early in the season. Dave Lauer agreed. "With a lot of excellent people returning from last year and a good amount of talent coming from freshmen, we've simply become an awesome team."

It was slightly more difficult to predict what the outcome of the girls' track season would be. Although the girls won conference last year, out of eight state qualifiers only two, Susan Smutny and Barb Maue, returned this year. Maue felt that her strongest events were the 200m dash and the quarter mile run. Maue finished fifth in the mile relay at Charleston along with Michelle Cooper, Michele Cary, and Jennifer Jolas.

So it was with high hopes and great expectations that the track teams began their seasons. Expecting the best, Coach West predicted that three or four records would be broken by the end of the year. Coach Logsdon agreed, saying, "We've got the right people!"

Seemingly striking a martial arts pose, Augusto Posadas adds his own style to the long jump at the I.S.U. Invitational.

Although he did not do as well as he had hoped, John Brewer said, "I was working up to my potential."

A Dedicated Senior

Tom and Mike, the Dabrowski twins, have been in Lincoln-Way track and field for all of their high school careers. They have more competition than just the other teams; because, as is natural between brothers, they continually try to outdo each other. It's hard to pick a winner though, because they're in different events. Tom competes in the high jump and Mike in the long jump and triple jump. "We joke about whose event is more important," said Mike.

Dave Lauer, Jim Maciukenas, Mike Heilman, and Kurt Baumhover are all smiles after breaking their record of 8:48 with an 8:40 time in the two-mile relay.

All the hard work may pay off, but it sometimes makes the runner pay also. Lindy Chambers waits patiently for Coach Hernandez to bandage a blister on her foot.

Nate Shaffer and Jamie Barnes check up on their splints. "Splints" are timings taken during a race to determine speeds at different points.

Jim Maciukenas pushes for the finish line and manages a second place finish (600 meters) at the I.S.U. Invitational.

Winning the 400 meter race at I.S.U. was "an exhilarating experience" for Matt Klemp. At that point, his time in the event was the best indoor time in the state.

Running in only her second meet of the year, Dawn Leonard "hopes to improve" her times in the low hurdles.

A Dedicated Senior

"I have been a member of track for four years, and I think it's a great experience. I have met most of my really good friends through track and it's been a very positive influence in my life. Track is an extremely competitive sport, and I love the feeling of strength and pride I get from running a good race."

-Angie Kleber

Michelle Cary hands the baton off to Amy Damrow as they participate in the 800 meter relay at I.S.U.

Looking For More

Gymnasts Hope To Add A Few More
To The Win Column

Dan Bailey
Tracy Domzalski

The boys' gymnastics team looks to regroup for 1988. Their '87 campaign was a disappointing one with only one win on both the frosh/soph and varsity levels. Veteran seniors John Botta, an all-rounder, and Carl Fiocca, a ring specialist, look to lead the way for the Knights under Coach White's guidance.

Any athlete will tell you that winning isn't everything, but it sure

"This group of young men knows that winning is not always the main goal."

-Coach Jagman

is more rewarding. Despite their uninspiring record, the gymnasts concentrated on their own accomplishments and improvements and managed to have fun in doing so.

"The key to gymnastics," said Coach Jagman, "is the ability to be patient enough to master an event and realize that it can be done." This is a trait they do, indeed, possess. With last year's trials chalked up as "a learning experience," the boys' gymnastics Knights are ready to add a few more to the win column.

The Management
A WORD FROM

"Being manager took a lot of time, but it was fun going to the meets, watching our team compete and meeting people from the other schools."

-Rita McNeeley and
Terry Greenland

Hard-working Steve Goes manages to compete in the other events while maintaining his status as the top man on pommel horse.

Carl Fiocca is a strong performer on parallel bars and the best on the team on rings. When Carl "hits" a good routine, he usually scores well.

Brian Bouton practices a tough routine on the rings, his specialty. He is also a strong performer on the pommel horse, parallel bars, and high bar.

Improving his form on the pommel horse will hopefully make Rob Schutt's last year as a Lincoln-Way gymnast a productive one.

Experience Plus

Three Year Veterans Lead Experienced Team

Susan Gemmell
Carl Gilmore

The varsity softball Knights were able to look forward to the '88 season with optimism. The squad featured eight returning starters (including three 3-year starters), and some excellent "recruits" from last year's sophomore team. Coach Zumpf thought he would have "a good defensive team, with a lot of speed," and to insure their success, he hoped they would "play as a unit instead of as individuals." Zumpf looked for the team to place in the top three in conference.

The sophomore team worked around a team theme, "F.U.N.S.: Fundamentals and Unity Now Sophomores." Coach Roy described them as having a very positive attitude and "very willing to make changes." They had a hard act to follow, considering last year's 19-6 (10-2 conference) record, and a tie for first place in SICA West. But Coach Roy is always optimistic! "I truly believe my girls will give it their best," she said.

"The experience at the varsity level should give us a winning season. The thing I liked most about softball this season was the team spirit among the players."
- Gloria Marcott

"If the team can get everything together, we'll do really well. We've got the ability, we just have to use it."

Great Expectations

Good Things To Come From A Team With Much To Offer

Jay Elder
Rashaun Smith

If everything goes according to plan, good things can be expected from this year's varsity baseball team. "These players will play for the team and not for themselves. They know how to win," said

"These players will play for the team and not for themselves. They know how to win."
- Varsity Coach Dave Bernhard

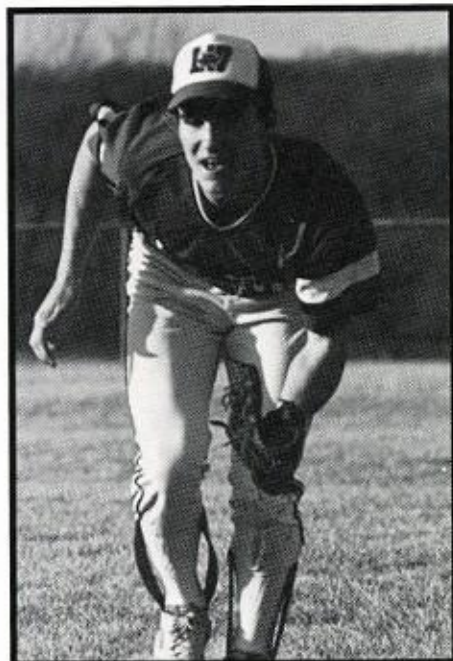

Coach Bernhard.

For experience and leadership, Coach Bernhard will look to talented players such as Steve Hayes (All-Conference catcher), Todd Schroeder (first base), Greg Stopka (pitcher), Pete Golaszewski (center field), Scott Schaak (left field), and Tim Bojan (pitcher).

Last year's team had a winning record (18-13 overall and 7-5 in conference), and things only got better. In their summer league, they were regional and sectional champs, and for the second year in a row placed fourth in the state. Two strong summer performances came from Scott Schaak and Steve Hayes, who were selected to the state summer All-Tournament team.

"My job," said Coach Bernhard, "will be to keep pushing the team to improve with each and every game." The coach also said the team should be, "An excellent defensive team and one of the favorites in the conference."

Versatility is an asset of outfielder and pitcher Mark Wasko, who is looking to keep the starting position he earned last year.

Coach Bernhard felt that shortstop Doug York had a "great summer" and hopes for a similar performance in the regular season.

A Dedicated Senior

“Winning is one of the best parts of being a part of Lincoln-Way baseball, and I think I was lucky enough to play for one of the best coaches in the area.”

- Greg Stopka

Catcher Dave Bormet tries his hand at third base as he attempts to tag left fielder Scott Schaak. Scott hopes to improve on his impressive .308 batting average of last season.

Two "high grade" players are first baseman Todd Schroeder (batting) and catcher Steve Hayes, whose '87 batting averages were .394 and .348, respectively.

Something New

Girl's Soccer Has High Hopes For First Season

Peggy Burke
Susan Smutny

The 1988 sports season welcomed girls' soccer to its line-up, increasing total participation to 17 team sports. In accordance with IHSA regulations, the girls competed as a club last season before becoming an official team.

Forty players originally went out for the team, with the squad since being cut to 28. Kirsten Wojcik and Sue Schroeder, participants in the Prairie State games last year, are expected to lead the Knights into battle this season. Karisa Koenig was also expected to play a large role, but was lost to injury before the season began.

With Maggie Egofske and Tim Kilrea, this new team will not be lacking coaching experience. Miss Egofske has been playing soccer since her youth, including a year in college. Mr. Kilrea, assistant

"This soccer team gives us a great opportunity to prove those guys wrong who think they are the only people who know how to play soccer!"

-Veronika Bruch

coach of Lincoln-Way's boys' soccer team, is also bringing his knowledge to the program.

As is true with any new program, no one is sure what to expect, but everyone is hoping for the best. "Soccer is a hard game to just catch on and be good," said Holly Podkulski. "It takes a lot of hard work. But remember, 'you never fail until you stop trying.'"

Both the coaches and the players are looking forward to their first year of competition.

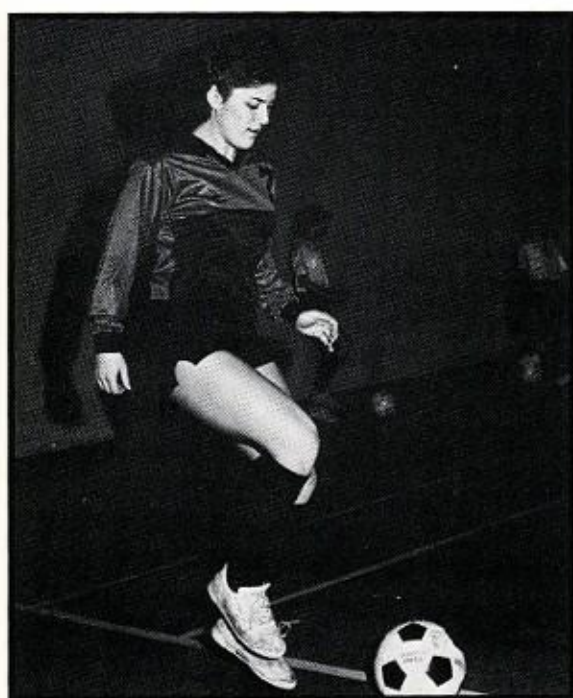

"We're going to turn this into a winning program," said Egofske. "There is some tough competition on the schedule, but there are also some teams just coming into it." Cori Eggert added, "If our enthusiasm keeps up in the future, who knows what we can accomplish on that alone!"

A New Addition
A WORD FROM

"It's going to be exciting. It's a first-year thing, so we can only go up with it, but we've already got a good foundation. A lot of kids played last year when it was a club team, and many of them played indoor soccer over the winter."

-Coach Egofske

"I love to play soccer and I always hate to see a game come to an end."
-Dawn Lee

"If people took the time to learn about soccer, they would realize how much fun it really is."

-Amy Zander

"We think it's great that we finally have a girls' soccer team. We think it is the beginning of a very promising future."

-Sue Schroeder and Karisa Koenig

"To be honest, I had no intention of putting my body through the physical training or conditioning, but I have already found having the edge of endurance allows me to excel to a greater level than I have reached in previous seasons."

Soccer team members stretch out before a Saturday morning practice at the East Campus, where this season's home games will be held.

Most people agree that you have to be dedicated to coach. Ms. Egofske (center) shows her total involvement as she watches a regional volleyball game with Jennifer Hellrung and freshman coach Ms. McDonald.

TUESDAY NIGHT may just seem like another night for the average person, but for the Lincoln - Way staff it means grading papers, coaching games, and planning for the week ahead. However, hard work and dedication are simply a part of life when you are a member of the Lincoln-Way FACULTY.

Pooling Their Resources

For obvious reasons (like no pool!) the only swimming ever done at Lincoln-Way has been in the pond behind the North campus. In late October, you can often find a wet football coach thrown in by his enthusiastic team. The future, however, holds something totally different. An eight-lane pool, including a diving well, is being considered for installation. To research this very expensive undertaking, a study task force was set up. This included one representative from each of the five grade school systems that feed into Lincoln-Way, two administrators, and two Board members. The issue — to build or not to build — will go to the polls in November of 1988.

— Julie Quinn

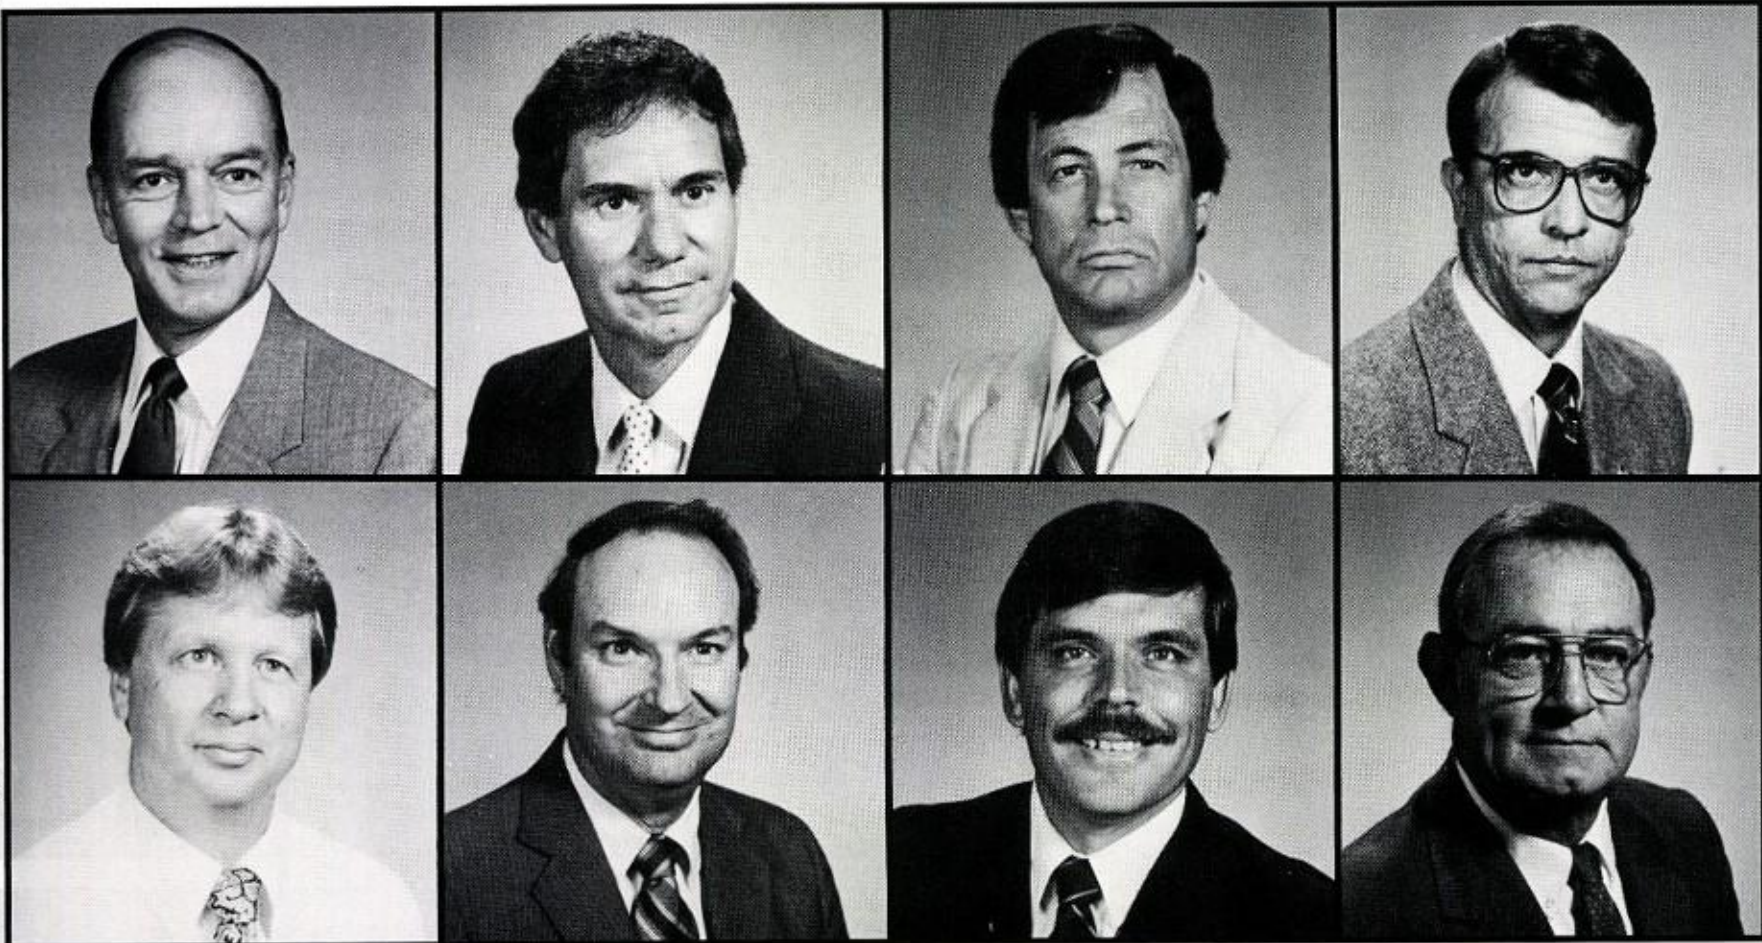

The agenda for the November 12th Board meeting included a presentation by the pool study committee. The large crowd caused the meeting to be moved to the cafeteria.

Board of Education: Front Row: Robert Eyrich, vice president; J. Lennard Barker, president; Joseph Hogan, secretary. Back Row: Board members James Gast, Hans Mueller, Renee Kosel, James Fagan.

J. Lennard Barker, the new Board president, closely follows the evening's agenda.

Lee Rosenquist, Superintendent;
Paul Brown, Assistant Superintendent.

Jerry Pius, Central Principal;
James Pitcairn, Central Associate Principal.

Joe Davis, East Principal; Mike Gardner, East Assistant Principal.

Jay Johnson, North Assistant Principal; Jerry McGuire, Assistant Superintendent.

James Pitcairn, Central Associate Principal, takes time out from his busy day to relax for a moment.

Superintendent Lee Rosenquist offers a word of explanation to the crowd at a Lincoln-Way Board meeting.

Back to the Classroom

There's an old saying that goes "You can't see the forest because of all the trees." This can apply to a high school education. In this case, "the trees" are all of the extracurricular activities that keep us from seeing the "forest" - education itself. The "trees" - football games, sock hops, Homecoming, etc. - distract us from putting our full attention on our classes, which is the reason we are here. This section attempts to focus on academics, teachers and learning, as we find our way through the trees to the classroom.

-Cheryl Stohlquist

History/Reading teacher Mr. Hoffman seldom experiences an eight-hour day. During the majority of the school year he spends his after school hours coaching cross country and track.

Почему вы идёте? Учите Русский Язык!

Look like Greek to you? Actually, it's Russian! A new alphabet and a new set of sounds were added to the curriculum when the foreign language department added Russian to its offerings. The instructor, Mr. Corey, studied Russian in college and at a foreign language institute in Washington, D.C. He later dealt with Russian refugees in Germany while in the U.S. Army. He believes that this language should be more widely taught in U.S. high schools. Knowledge of the language opens opportunities in government, translation, and tourism. As he suggested above in Russian, "Try it, you'll like it."

Foreign language teacher Mr. Corey was responsible for the addition of a Russian language course.

After 29 years at Lincoln-Way, Mr. Gene McGivern has decided to "call it a day," announcing his decision to retire. It's easy for Mr. McGivern to compare the school of today to the one he came to way back in 1959. "The student body consisted of about 710 students compared to the roughly 3015 we have now," he said. As the school grew, so did his career. He started out as a Latin teacher and "on the side" he coached football, basketball and track. He became a part-time guidance counselor. Eventually he became chairman of the foreign language department; and, in his final career move, he was appointed as the director of guidance. In addition to all his work at the high school, he was a basketball official for 20 years.

There were several reasons behind his decision to retire. First, there was his health to consider. A while back he had a heart attack. He has also gone "beyond the call of duty" in that he waited six years beyond the early retirement age of 55. He has several plans for his retirement. He plans to work 30 days a year for the school in hopes of staying close to his daughter (a Lincoln-Way student) and his wife (a secretary in the North media center). He also wants to become more involved with the VFW and the American Legion. He will certainly spend countless hours pitching horseshoes at the New Lenox Sportsmen's Club near Wilmington.

Mr. McGivern has devoted his entire life to the guidance and education of high school students. When asked if he would change anything, he was quick to say "no".

-Peggy Burke

When asked what he'd miss most about Lincoln-Way, Mr. McGivern replied, "I'll miss the hundreds of students who have passed through in the last 29 years."

Dog Days

"Be careful! Don't let the hair get in his eyes" . . . "Why don't you cut a little more off the top" . . . "What beautiful hair." A scene from the local barber shop? Not really! These comments might be heard from a student in Mr. Dailey's class during the dog grooming unit.

This interesting unit teaches the students how to use the various grooming equipment, how to apply medication, and how to become a certified groomer. If the skills are learned well, it can produce an opportunity for part-time money.

The unit isn't only enjoyed by the students, but the teachers as well, because they're able to get their dogs groomed for free!

-Peggy Burke

Keith McCormick, assisted by Lisa Fredwell, takes care as he trims around the eyes of Happy, Miss Jagman's basset hound.

The "SM 1 1/2 on the blackboard does not describe the length of Mr. Thomas' smile. It's much wider than that!

Mrs. Marth's child care class enjoys making gingerbread houses to take home as Christmas presents for their parents.

ART Applause

Everyone has heard of "employee of the month," "dessert-of-the-month," and "flavor-of-the-month." Add another one! Lincoln-Way now has the "artist-of-the-month." This award was created to provide recognition to excellent art students. It is based on either a collection of work, one individual piece, a sketchbook performance, or improvement during the month. The two winners, one from art fundamentals and one from studio art, each receive a five dollar gift certificate to either Herman's Art Store or McDonald's. Hopefully, they catch the spirit of the award and spend it at Herman's!

— Julie Quinn

Sharing a desk and an honor are Sue Gemmell and Mike Forsythe, two recent "artists-of-the-month."

"Simulation" - to make believe, or pretend ... In Mr. Carroll's Western Civ. and Mr. Byar's World War III classes, simulation plays a major role. "The whole idea behind simulation is to supplement your class," said Mr. Carroll. Students find that simulation is more interesting than a teacher's lecture, and it allows them to really "get into" the unit of study. Such things as the Boxer Rebellion and a reunion of Persian war veterans have been simulated. So, the next time you see someone running down the hall with a sword in hand, don't be alarmed — it's probably just a student going to Mr. Carroll's class.

— Julie Quinn

As Mr. Carroll looks for help from above, Matt Gramse, a Chinese boxer from the Boxer Rebellion, moves in for the kill.

Mr. Allen - teacher, coach, and dean - has a few words of advice for freshman Jon Montgomery.

"So that's how it's done!" Showing Scott Burke the fundamentals of badminton, Mrs. Sawin demonstrates the proper serve.

While stretching it to the limit, Mr. DeYoung is also watchful of his gym class.

Queens of Fluff

Mrs. Scheeler on towels: "The students keep getting them dirty; we keep on cleaning them." They have eight loads of towels per day with an estimated 150 towels per load. That means they launder approximately 1,200 towels a day! That amounts to 6,000 towels per week! These ladies certainly are the "Queens of Fluff!"

In Memory of: Ronald Yunker

"Ron Yunker's personal and professional life were exemplary models for all who knew him. He was an educator who truly cared about the welfare of Lincoln-Way students."

-Superintendent Lee F. Rosenquist

"I can remember Ron saying countless times . . . 'If there's anything I can do, let me know.' That's the kind of man he was."

-Ed Fleck (friend and teaching colleague)

"Mr. Yunker will be remembered as a former student, teacher, family man and friend. Ron enjoyed being with his family and friends."

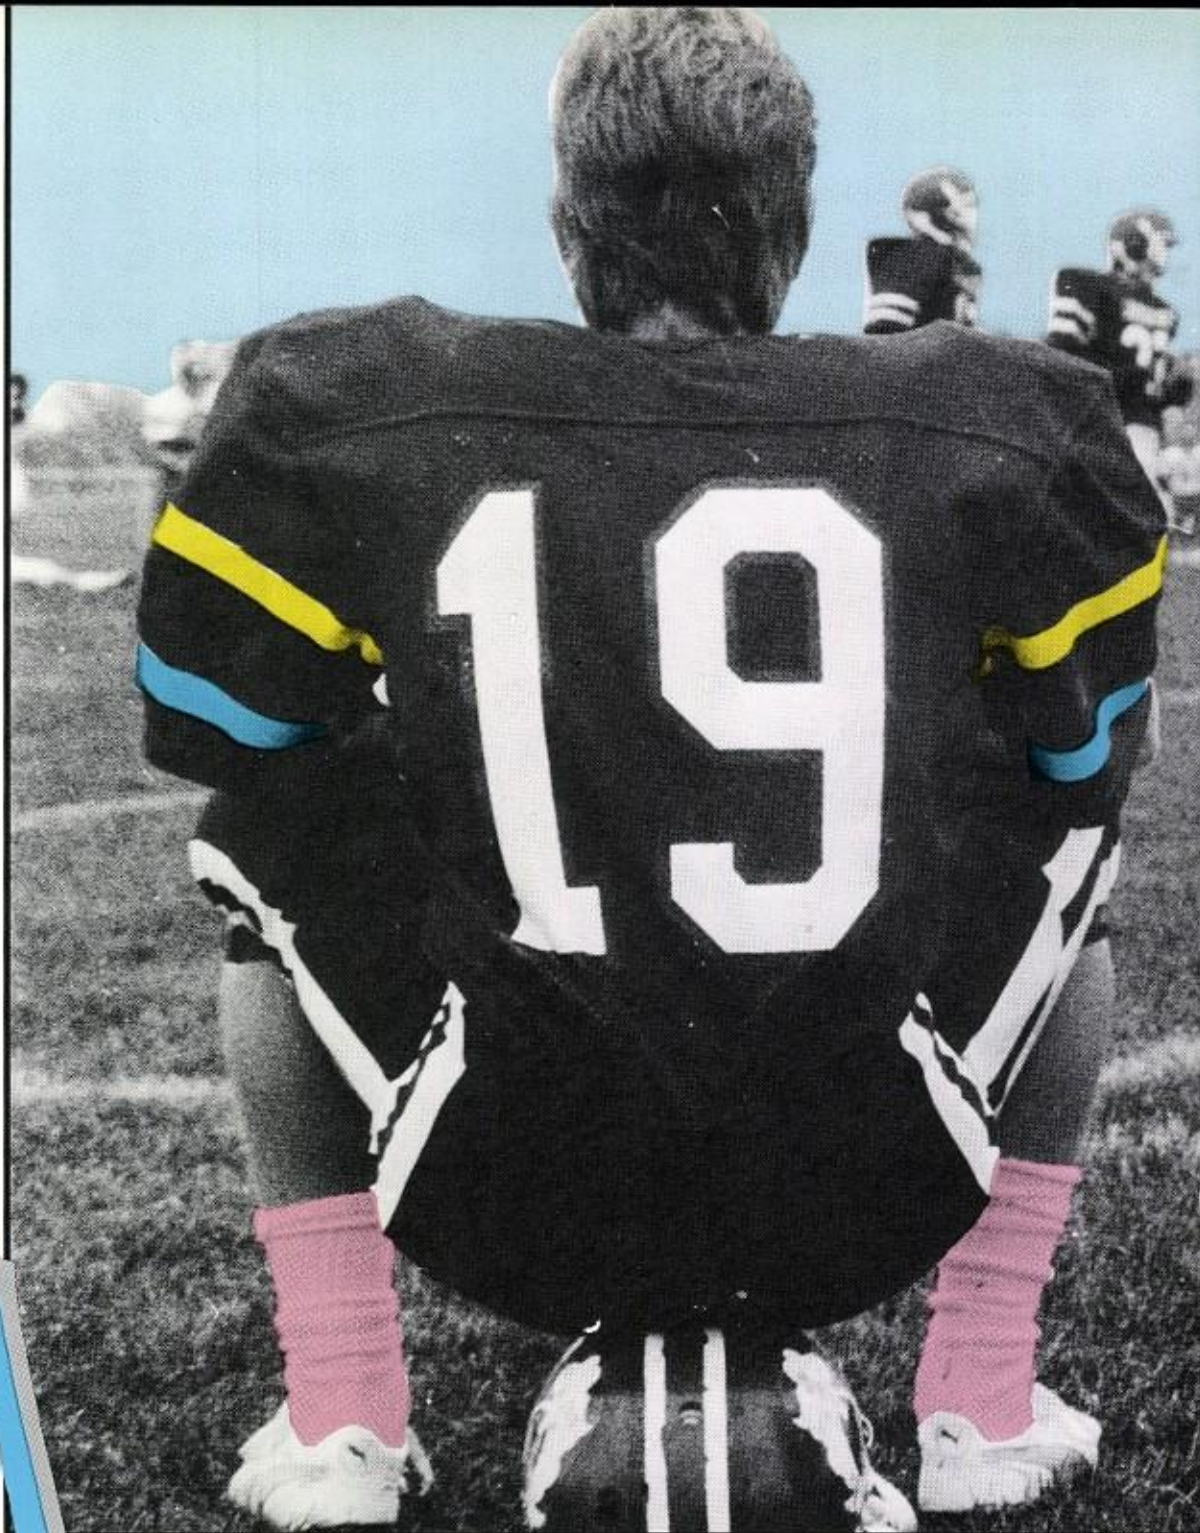

-William Colgan (Mr. Yunker's former teacher)

"I remember Ron not so much as my teammate of years past, but rather as I learned to know him more recently. He was a loyal friend and a faithful husband and father. He will be sorely missed by his family, his friends, and his students."

Senior Will

7n years past, a good bet for a few laughs was the annual "Senior Will." An entire issue of the school's newspaper would be devoted to this lighthearted subject. Seniors were given the opportunity to will "absolutely anything" to "absolutely anyone." With the demise of the school newspaper, the senior will disappeared as well. However, this year's seniors were given a chance in . . . THE SENIOR WILL REVISITED.

Simple Rule of

7 If I could change Lincoln-Way, it would be the rules. Be serious, who cares how we dress?"

— Terra Filip

Sounds familiar, you say? Another senior gripe session? Not really. Seniors were given a chance to seriously consider "What one thing would you change about Lincoln-Way?" Other responses were quite similar.

"All seniors should be able to do what they want, when they want, and no one can say anything about it."

— Dan Urba

"Allow shorts to be worn - there are a lot of cute legs in this school!"

— Leslie Graft

"I'd tell the administration to RELAX!"

— Sonja Sloan

"All seniors drive to school - PERIOD!"

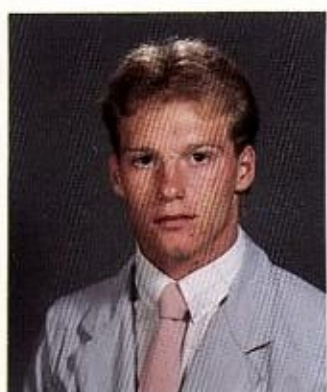

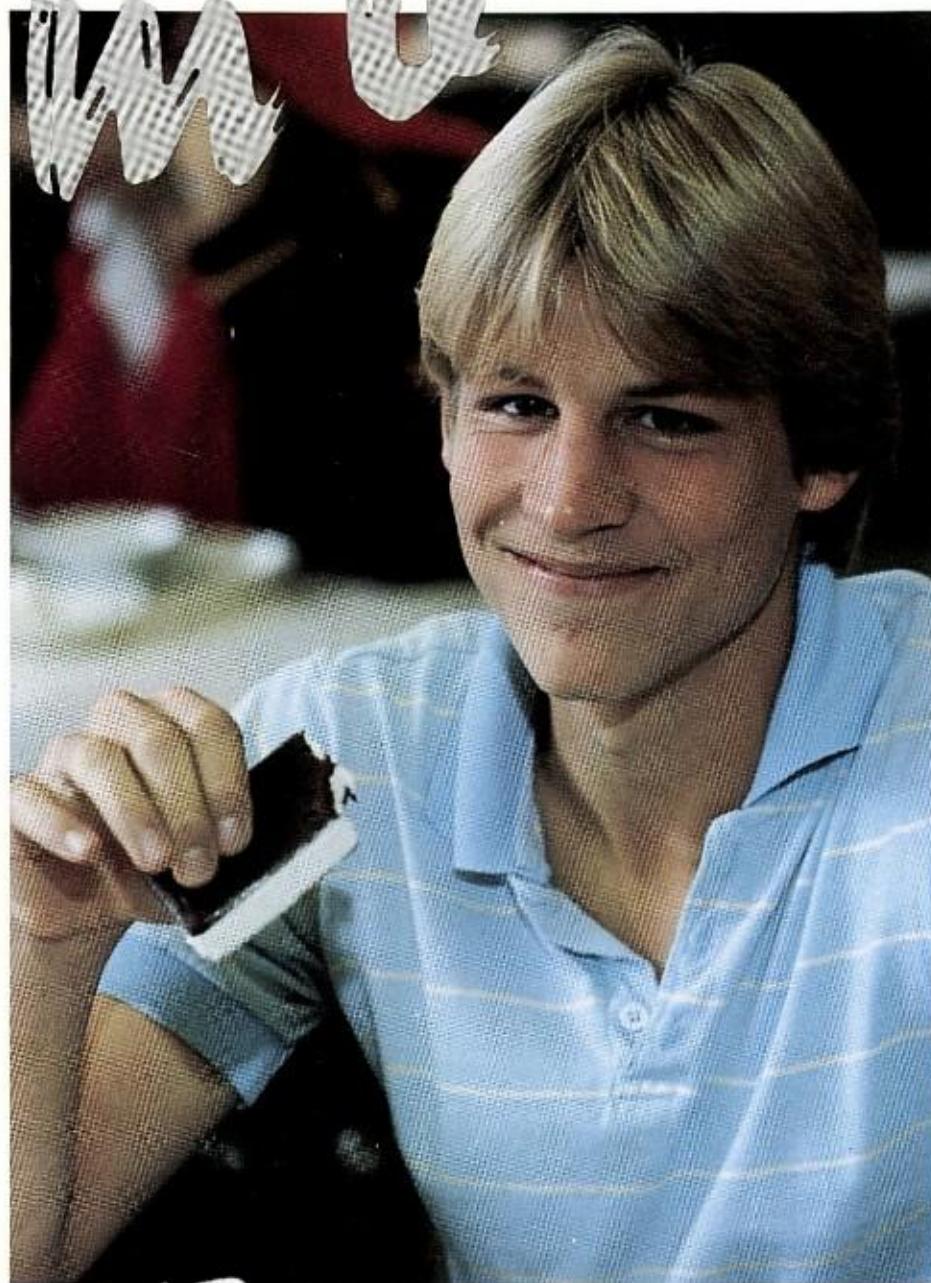

— Scott Thorson

Obviously, the first thing that came to everyone's mind was RULES. Not one individual made "educational" suggestions such as more or less homework, new and different courses or extracurricular activities, more or less credits for graduation, etc. But, just because students complained about the rules doesn't necessarily mean that L-W has too many. The fact is, students at every high school complain about rules. They always have, and they always will. Rules are a major irritation simply because during the teen years, students begin to break away from authority (parents and teachers) and move toward more freedom. This is a part of "growing up." Rest assured, if you didn't complain, you wouldn't be normal!

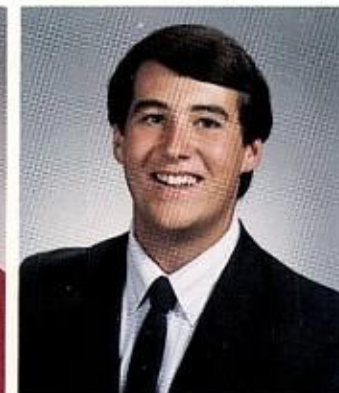

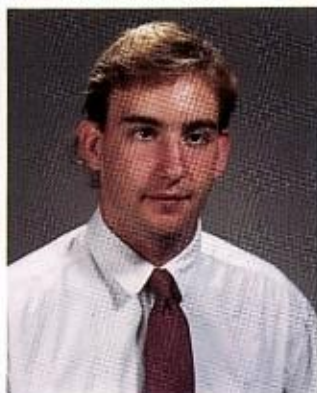

— Cheryl Stohlquist

"They should change the tardies policy. It's not always possible to get from one end of the building to the other with the crowded hallways."

Practically

Every year on Senior Honor night, an award is presented to the students who have had perfect attendance for all four years of high school. This presentation always draws a chorus of "oohs" and "aahs" from the audience, as other seniors wonder how the select few managed to make it. At least six seniors entered their final year with a perfect slate, and were definitely "going for it." One could only wonder "how" and "why?"

"I guess it just happened because my mom makes me go to school every day unless I'm deathly ill, and with my luck I never got sick on a school day."

— Rich Goberville

"Well, I kind of made it a goal after going two years of high school and not having missed a day."

— Doug Schmeckpeper

"It just sort of happened that way."

— Terry Greenland

"I hate to get behind and have to make up work."

The Parking Permit

PARKING STICKER ... PARKING STICKER ... PARKING STICKER. That was the only thing on the minds of hundreds of seniors who applied in late September for permission to park in Lincoln-Way's lot. Juniors were eliminated from consideration, but there were still only 190 stickers for 403 seniors who wanted to drive. A lottery was held, and senior class president David Hoyt pulled numbers from a box to determine the winners. Hoyt was not one of the lucky ones. This method of deciding who could and could not park angered losing students who needed a way to get to work or a way home after extracurricular activities. Of course, many seniors just wanted a more enjoyable source of transportation than the bus. However, as Mike Krauch explained, "Seniors who need to drive because of after school jobs should be given stickers first." Other students like Becky Frank believed, "Driving should be a privilege that every senior should have."

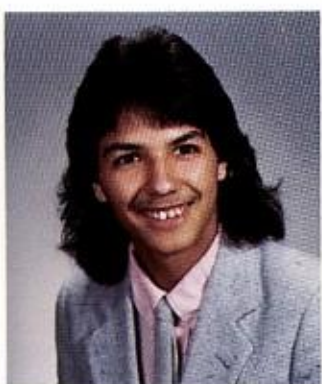

Why was parking such a big problem this year? "There are just more students driving to school," answered Mr. Pitcairn. But Kimm Nau never thought there was a problem. "They caused more problems with the stickers," she concluded. Linnea Ervick found the only bright side of the parking lot problem for seniors. "It keeps juniors out of the parking lot!"

— Cathy Clausing

I.D. checks are useful in keeping juniors out of the parking lot, but seniors Carl Gilmore and Chris Doell have nothing to worry about as Mr. Huddleston checks Carl's I.D.

Lincoln-Way parking stickers have been in use for over 30 years, but not until the past two years have restrictions been put on them.

Glimpses from

I feel sad that so many people know so little about my country," stated Ines Vazpinto, 18, of Portugal. "Most people don't even know where it is!" Ines was one of the foreign exchange students who spent their senior year at Lincoln-Way. Ines, along with Eric Tomasini of France, enjoyed Lincoln-Way, but they could not help but to compare it to their own schools. Eric, 18, concluded that "U.S. high schools try to socialize students with clubs and many activities, whereas French students go to school only to work." Ines reached similar conclusions. "Lincoln-Way is a much bigger school than the one I went to. It has much better sports and extra-curricular activities. The school itself is much easier here. We never have multiple-choice tests. We don't have lockers, either!" There may have been some differences, but both Ines and Eric seemed to adjust to the change. In fact, they adjusted so well, that they both looked forward to a return visit!

GUESS WHAT?

Everyone has a bad day: your homework doesn't make sense, and your mom starts yelling at you for something your sister did. Finally the phone rings and it is your best friend saying, "Have you heard!" And so a new round of GOSSIP begins - and all of a sudden, your bad day looks just a little bit brighter.

Gossip is not a sin (even though some parents want to make you think it is a serious crime). Like anything else, gossip can be misused; but there are some positive things to be said for gossip. Consider these the next time you hear "Guess what?"

1. Gossip is ACADEMIC. Alright, so you don't learn how to multiply and add, but you do learn about people through gossip.

2. Gossip is PLAYFUL. Sadly enough, a large part of life can be boring. Gossip adds a little bit of enjoyment to your day.

3. Gossip is EXERCISE. Maybe you won't lose a lot of weight but you will exercise your heart and mouth.

It's always good to hear everyone else's Friday night plans.

Following a childhood dream

HORSE PLAY

Most everyone has had childhood dreams of owning a horse. Chances are, though, that the same individual who wanted to ride into the sunset when they were six, would now much rather drive into it in their own set of wheels. However, a few do remain who have an undying love for horses, and prefer four legs to four wheels any time. One whose dream didn't die was junior Colleen Buchanan.

Colleen's dream came true in 1985 when she received Law Mar Raffy (or simply "Raffy"), a twelve year old purebred Arabian. Colleen was soon riding competitively and found that preparing for a show was long, hard work. "Usually I work him three to four days a week for 30 minutes to an hour," said Colleen. "The week before a show I'll ride him more or less, depending on how good he was. The day before the show, I don't ride. I spend the day getting ready, and I let Raffy rest." Colleen competed at many shows, including events at New Lenox's 4-H Field, and as far away as Wisconsin. She enjoyed much success during her first two years, including the 1987 high-point award in her riding club, the Rocken Riders. She considered herself fortunate to have been able to follow her early dream.

SHORT STORY

Students and administrators often clash on school policy. So what's new? One never-ending controversy was the issue of students wearing shorts in school. The school policy was very clear: if your shorts don't cover your knees, don't bother wearing them to school. According to East Campus principal Mr. Davis, the school didn't allow shorts because there weren't that many hot days when shorts were needed, and "if we allowed shorts there would be some people who would take advantage of the rule and wear very short shorts - beyond the point of respectability." Simply stated, allowing shorts would cause more problems than it would solve. Not surprisingly, many students disagreed with this policy.

"I oppose the rule because it violates our right to express ourselves."

—Darla Bravato

"I think that if a girl can wear a miniskirt that is as short as gym shorts, everybody should be able to wear shorts at least to the mid thigh."

—Jim Roberts

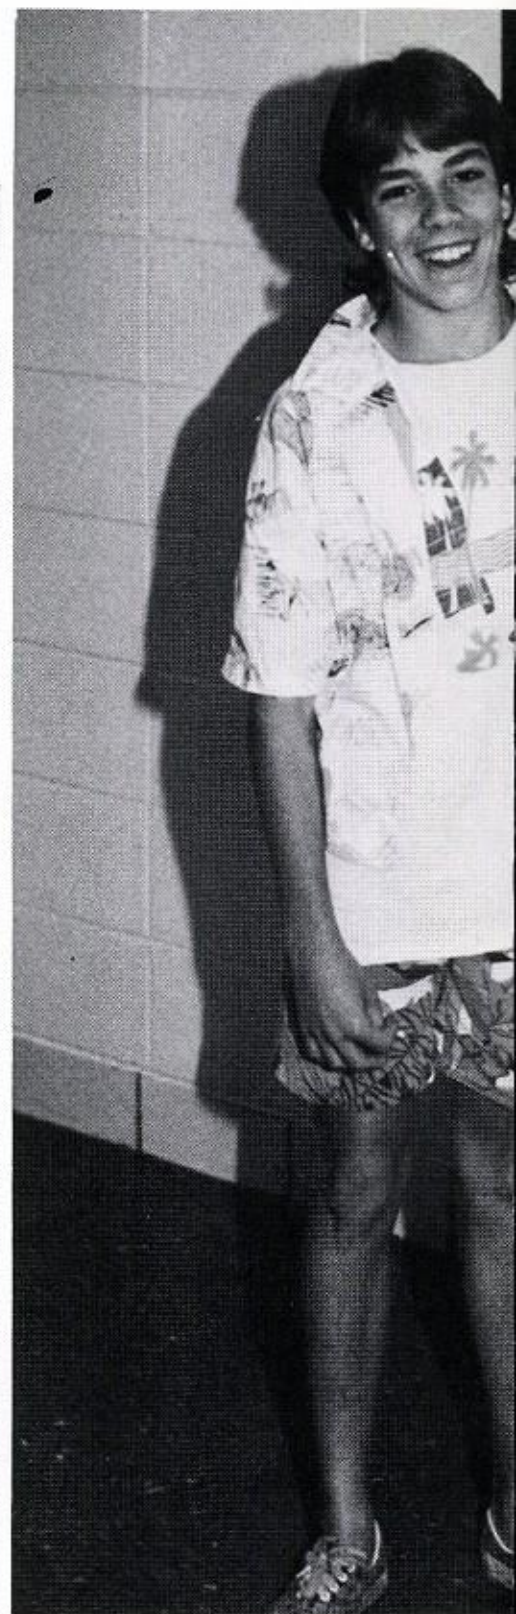

"If girls are allowed to wear miniskirts, boys should at least be allowed to wear jams. After all, most guys would be calling unnecessary attention to themselves. Most of them have ugly legs anyway. (Just kidding!)"

—Rosemarie Buchanan

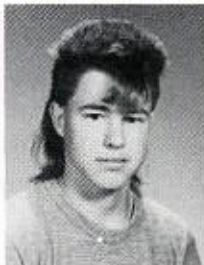

"What's the difference? This is a temperate zone."

Favorite phrases become personal trademarks

WHO SAID IT?

Students always find ways to express themselves: their clothing, hairstyles, actions, and certainly - their speech. Little expressions or phrases that people used became their personal trademark and gave them individuality. These sayings were numerous and differed greatly. Some were simple greetings such as Diane Pearson's familiar, "Hey you psycho!" Others were quotes from favorite movies such as Chris Doell's "It's time for someone to put their foot down - and that foot is me!" (Animal House) If you had a whining friend you could have used Jenny Colwell's "Oh, spare me the sob story!" or you could have taken the violent approach like Mike Scagnelli and threatened to put your friend "Out of Commission" (or simply "O.O.C."). If you approved of an idea, you could have quoted Andrea Kargle, "You gotta like it!" or Pat O'Neill's simple reply, "I'm for it!" If you weren't sure whether you liked the idea or not you could have been like Ronni Schwingel and said, "I don't know, maybe so." Finally, if you liked an idea so much that normal words could not describe your enthusiasm, you could have made up a new word like Steve Haley's exclamation, "That's partymonrificial!" What phrase did people associate with you?

"Don't cry big guy!"

DATING

Do gentlemen really prefer blondes? I guess! According to a poll taken by Mrs. Schnierle's junior health classes, 60% of the males preferred blondes over brunettes (sorry, brunettes!).

males agreed.

— When on a date, would you rather be alone (with your date of course!), with another couple, or in a group? Both guys and gals preferred to be alone.

This questionnaire was administered to approximately 140 juniors and was probably a fairly accurate reflection of the entire junior class. A small sampling of other responses included . . .

— Where are the best places to go on a "first date?" Boys chose indoor movies (40%) and parties (35%), while the girls liked parties best (31%) with informal dinners (18%) as their second choice.

— Juniors are "socially active." More than 60% of the girls and about 50% of the boys said they had dated more than five times. Approximately 10% of each sex indicated that they had never dated.

— What are the best gifts for your boyfriend or girlfriend? More than half of the guys chose clothing or jewelry, followed by "something special." Girls preferred to get flowers but could also be pleased with jewelry, clothes, and teddy bears!

— Are perfumes and colognes really captivating? 58% of the girls said yes, while only 45% of the

TO ASK

"Hey dad, I was wondering - could I borrow a few dollars? I'll wash your car and mow the lawn." Students who have no job or allowance depend on mom and dad as their only source of income. Sometimes the methods of acquiring needed funds must be creative. Any suggestions to coax the money makers (your parents) into lending you some spare cash?

— Tracy Domzalski

"Mom, I haven't paid my book fine yet."

— Cindy Weidinger

Just say, I need some money to buy you a gift and I would like to keep the change.

— Ron Preston

Tell them a girl in your homeroom is sick and you need to send her flowers.

— Theresa Robbins

"Mom, I know you love me and really care about me, so may I borrow twenty dollars?"

— Andrea Kargle

If Heather Goesel runs out of money during the school day, she can easily ask her mother (guidance secretary Mrs. Goesel) for some more cash.

TASTE

It's amazing how seriously people take their pizza. They know how they like it and where they like to buy it. But more importantly, they know what they hate. Students are very opinionated about what doesn't go on their pizza, and can be just as feisty about getting it from a place they dislike. Everyone had something to say including . . .

"I hate anchovies because I don't like fish staring up at me, and I don't like Domino's pizza because the meat and cheese aren't cooked, it's too thin, and it's gross."

-Gina Barber

"I think anchovies, mushrooms, green peppers, and onions are disgusting because they make everything taste like fish. I hate pizza from Little Caesar's because it tastes like cardboard."

-Pam Hardy

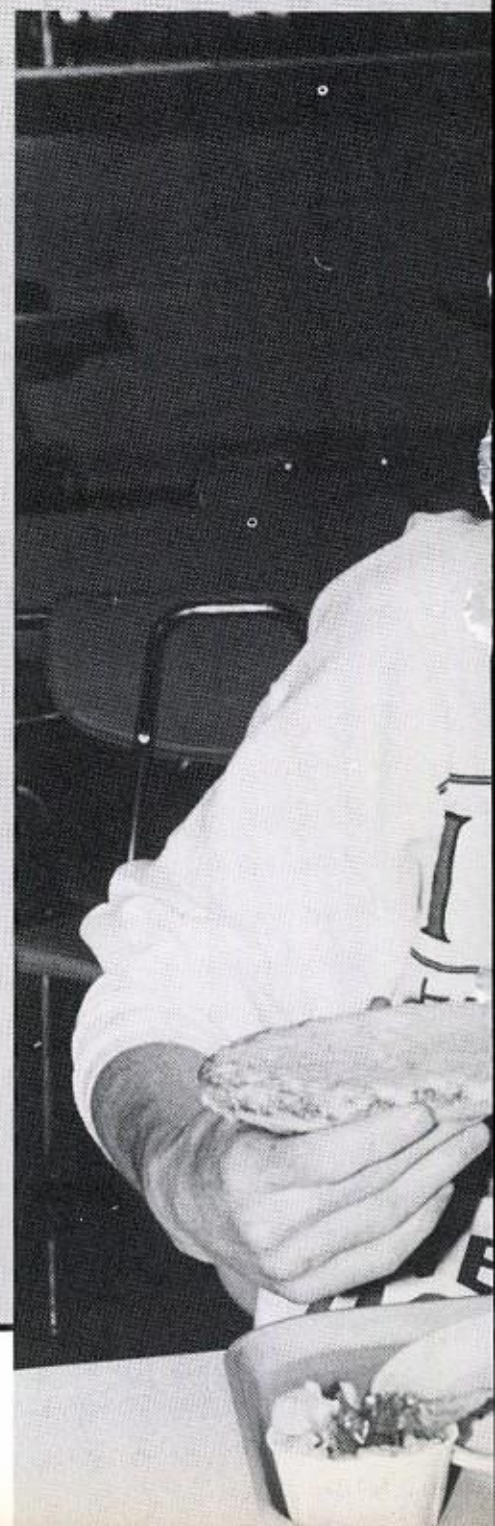

"I hate anchovies, onions, anchovies, olives, anchovies, mushrooms, and anchovies because I can't stand how they feel in my mouth."

—Shelly Amwoza

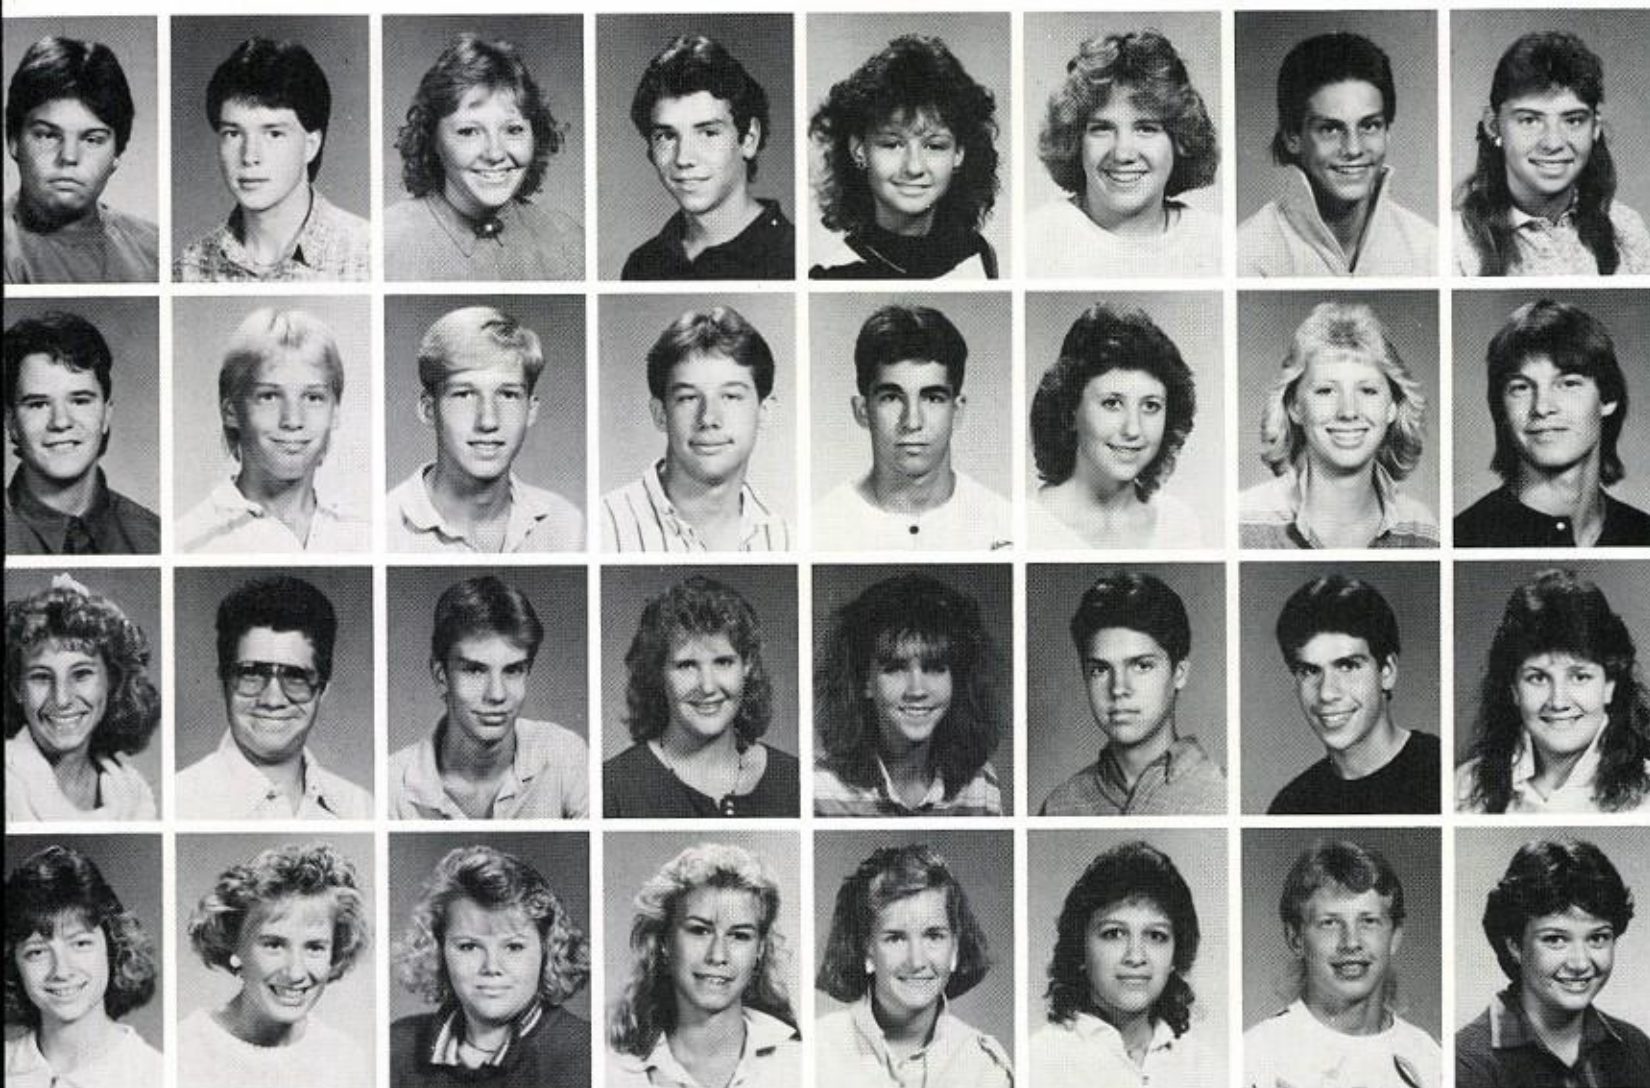

"I don't like onions on my pizza because of the adverse effect my breath has on the opposite sex."

A pizza boat is the meal of choice for sophomore Jody Buell, while Sue Duda chooses otherwise. Pizza is a frequent and rather popular lunch at L-W.

Students have opinions too

POLITICS

Politics in the world today isn't much different than it was ten, twenty, or even forty years ago. Of course the names have changed, along with the situations. Students were asked what they thought of the political situation today, and came up with many varied and interesting answers.

—Jenny Cogswell

"The world is troubled by the problems that our parents are causing. I feel that the parents should make our world the best it can be so we will have a good world too."

—Tom Blackman

—Jay Elder

"I think people without brains do an awful lot of talking, and that to me is the description of a politician."

—Anonymous

"Reagan is too old."

"I don't think the congressmen should sit back and let a law, the Graham-Rudman Act, take care of the federal deficit."

—Jenny Kimak

"I think we should have thrown Ollie North in jail."

—Rashaun Smith

With their minds on lunch and Homecoming activities, Nicole Whisman and April Novak had little time for "deep" political thoughts.

"I think that all politicians should be shot."

—Chris Rak

Advice on how to . . .

KILL THE CLOCK

Five minutes and two seconds left . . . You have no homework . . . No talking allowed! Every day students are put into similar circumstances. How can they spend those minutes between the time they officially "tune out" for the day and when the bell finally rings?

- "I daydream, but I do that in all my classes - all the time."

-Melissa LeZotte

- "I search my purse desperately for a piece of gum!"

-Patti Dell

- "I shoot spitballs."

-Andy Ulman

- "I space out!"

-Angie Marth

- "I bang on the portable walls to annoy the teacher."

-Dominic Allocco

- "I tap the desks of the people in front of me."

-Eric Twietmeyer

- "I eavesdrop on other peoples' conversations."

-Rashaun Smith

- "I think about riding horses in the Olympics."

-Tracy Domzalski

- "I go to the library and laugh at my friends as they get kicked out."

Put responsibility aside, it's

LATE NIGHT

Could it be that boredom isn't the cause of naps taken in class? Is it possible that two comedians broadcasting from opposite coasts are responsible for tons of unfinished homework? The Tonight Show and Late Night with David Letterman are watched religiously by many students - and teachers! After sitting through the 10:00 news (a great homework opportunity and a chance for teachers to grade papers), everything that needs to get done is put aside and that familiar theme hums from the TV followed by "Heeeeere's Johnny!" If one is fortunate, they-

'll get to see "The Amazing Carnac," a favorite Carson routine. Johnny's guests follow, and as the hour approaches 11:30, the real die-hards are just getting warmed up. "And now from New York, it's David Letterman!" Still awake? This "god of comedy" and "the world's most dangerous band" (titles given to them by L-W student and Letterman groupie Kevin Kolovitz) have been keeping people away from precious hours of shut-eye for six years. Some people simply can't get to sleep without their nightly fix of Viewer Mail, Stupid Pet Tricks, and the latest Top Ten List. Letterman's comedy is innovative, and certainly worth the massive quantities of caffeine that must be taken in order to find one's way to the bus stop the next morning.

Misspent youth, you say? Blame it on Johnny . . . blame it on David!

Does anyone really do

HOMework?

“School’s main purpose is learning.” We’ve been fed this line since we hit pre-school, and we’re still hearing it today. “Learning” seems to be a process of being taught material, doing and learning the assigned work, and finally being tested on the material. Teachers seem to feel that they never have enough time to teach the necessary material, so they need to use all of the class time available, leaving little time to do assigned work . . . enter homework.

Homework is stressed as a major part of the learning process. We are constantly being told the number of hours we should do homework each night. But that’s just it — we should . . . but do we? In the classroom, working seems to come naturally. The teacher is present, and you can’t really do anything else. But at home, the rules change. You are in charge of your own destiny, and there is always an endless list of distractions to pull you away from your work. With things such as after school athletics, part-time jobs, televisions, telephones, etc., is anyone really content to spend their evening with 65 pre-algebra problems? Maybe, maybe not. It’s obvious that some of the student body does some homework, or the school would be filled with 19-year-old freshmen. But do you think anyone really studied all night for that big test? You be the judge.

TREND

How do you feel about smoking? In past years, there had been a great number of smokers among both teenagers and adults. Society felt smoking was acceptable and the thing to do. The 80's marked a decade where attitudes toward smoking drastically changed. Smokers have been pressured to "kick the habit." The general public sees smoking as unattractive, and the reasons why are clear.

"It makes a person's breath stink, their lungs black, and dulls their senses. Overall, it's disgusting."

-B. Thomas Wise

"It's unattractive because it not only ruins the smoker's health, but it can also ruin mine."

-Justin Donnelly

"Never kiss a smoker because it's like kissing an ashtray."

-Heather Crafton

-Rashaun Smith

Some people, like Geeta Kapadia, are uncomfortable about dating smokers. The fact that Dominic Allocco doesn't smoke makes him a logical choice for the Halloween Dance.

CHAMPIONS

With her eyes on the ball, Krista Reed moves to the net for a return. The 1987 girls' tennis team won the SICA conference championship and the Joliet West sectional championship.

AMBIDEXTROUS

Vic Christensen learned the meaning of ambidextrous in a hurry. Right-handed Vic broke his right arm in a football game against Lockport. He learned to write with his left hand after a while. "It was the worst time of my life. I hope I never have to go through anything like that again."

FASHION FAD

Whether they are called acid washed, stone washed, ice washed, dusted, or frosted denim, Mike Womak's jeans proved to be the popular style of 1988.

PARTY ANIMAL

Spuds Mackenzie (double exposed at left in American Gothic) became a popular figure for some teenagers; however, his popularity was troubling to many adults.

MINI IS BETTER

1988 was the year of the mini skirt. Mini skirts returned from 1987 shorter and bolder. Showing off the year's biggest fashion trend is Kim Knigge.

FRIENDS FOREVER

"Since we met freshman year, we've shared a lot, especially smiles and good times."

- Janel Elliott and Joy Panzer

JUST CALL

When asked what would happen if there wasn't a phone in the cafeteria, Audra Waller replied, "I'd eat too much!"

From the joy and camaraderie of the '88 Olympics to the ugliness of apartheid in South Africa, the world's people saw the full range of human action and emotion this past year. After years of negotiation and stalemate, the military superpowers were able to reach an arms reduction agreement. This supported the belief of many who thought on August 16 that the "Age of Aquarius," an era of peace and tranquility, would start. But the war in Afghanistan, the Persian Gulf conflict, and revolt in Central America insured that peace won't be reached in the near future. Scandal also seemed to be standard fare for the year, especially in the United States. The Arms for Hostages deal rocked the summer media. All the Congressional hearings and each major character got plenty of television coverage. Gary Hart, one-time Democratic frontrunner, fell from grace (and out of the presidential race, for a while) for his "questionable" friendship with campaigner Donna Rice. And who could forget televangelists Jim Bakker and Jimmy Swaggart? The year had its high points, too. An entire nation pulled behind a little girl caught in a well. The Soviets celebrated their 70th anniversary as a nation and held cultural exchanges with many countries. Oscar Arias Sanchez, president of Costa Rica, initiated a summit to secure a cease-fire in all Central America, and earned a Nobel Peace Prize. Overall, however, the old maxim held true: "The more things change, the more things stay the same."

-Tracy Domzalski
-Carl Gilmore

A mourner commemorates one of the worst naval accidents in British history. An English ferry sank off the coast of Belgium, killing 193.

The thrill of victory . . . and the agony of defeat. Brian Boitano's (top) gold medal was the first for the U.S. in the Calgary '88 Olympics. Dan Jansen's (right) story, however, was nothing short of tragic. He lost his sister to leukemia just before the start of the Olympics. While his countrymen cheered him on, he fell during his two speed skating competitions and failed to finish.

The Soviets' war in Afghanistan became a "sore spot" for more than just the Afghani fighters.

The stock market crash shocked many. Although many investors lost MUCH money, the drastic decline in stock prices did not seem to have much of an effect on the American economy.

Conflict seems to be a part of any year's history, whether in the Persian Gulf, Central America, or Korea.

In one of the most daring moves in peace time "air raid" history, West German Mathias Rust landed a plane in Red Square, Moscow. He received a jail term of four years.

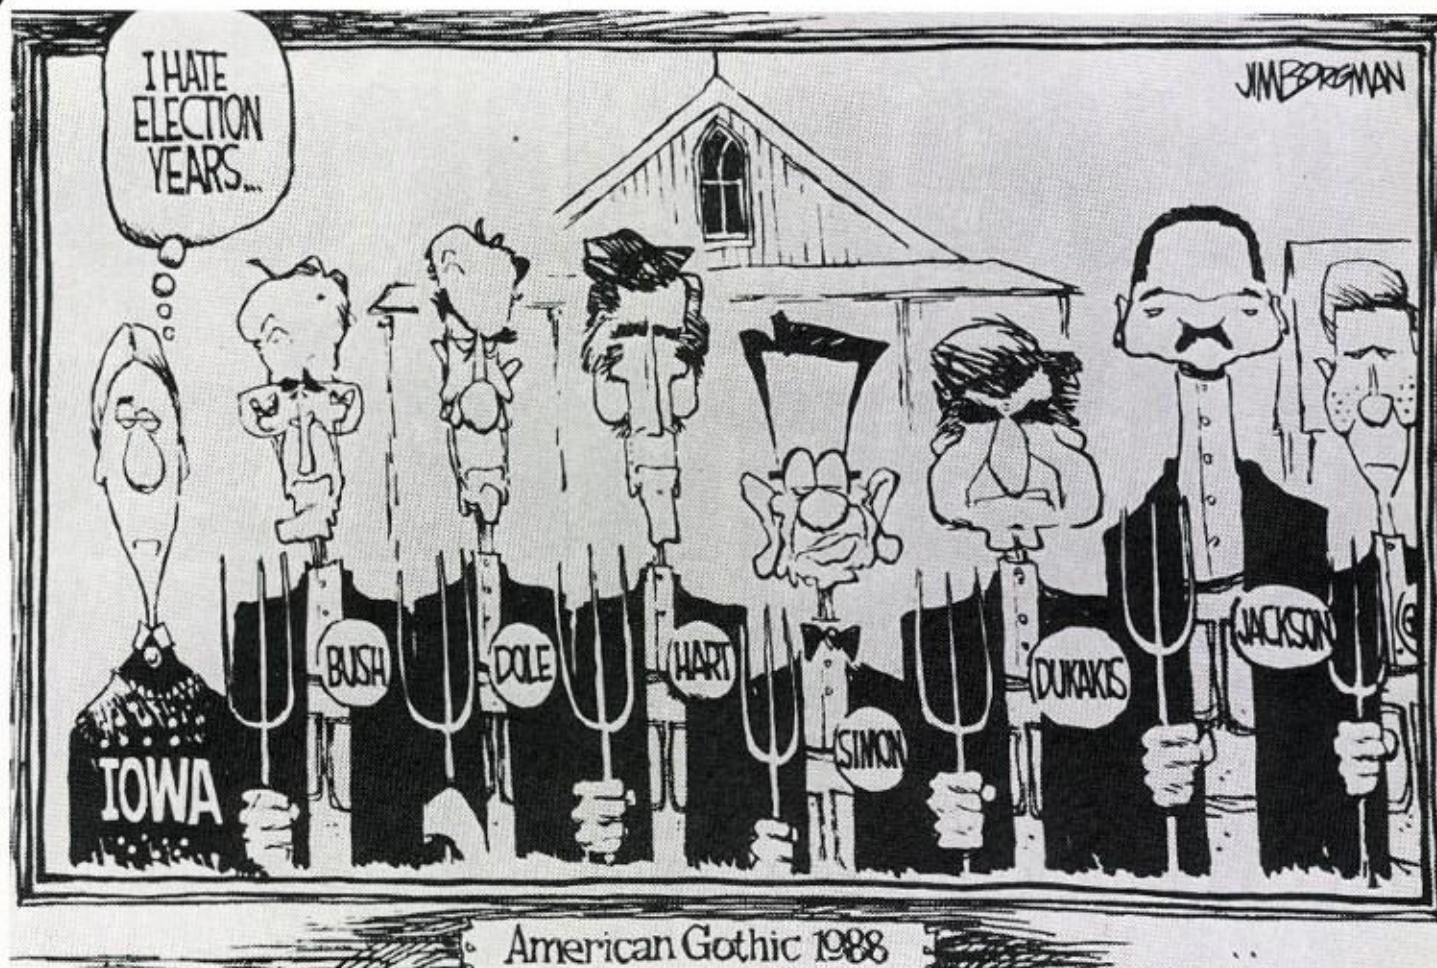

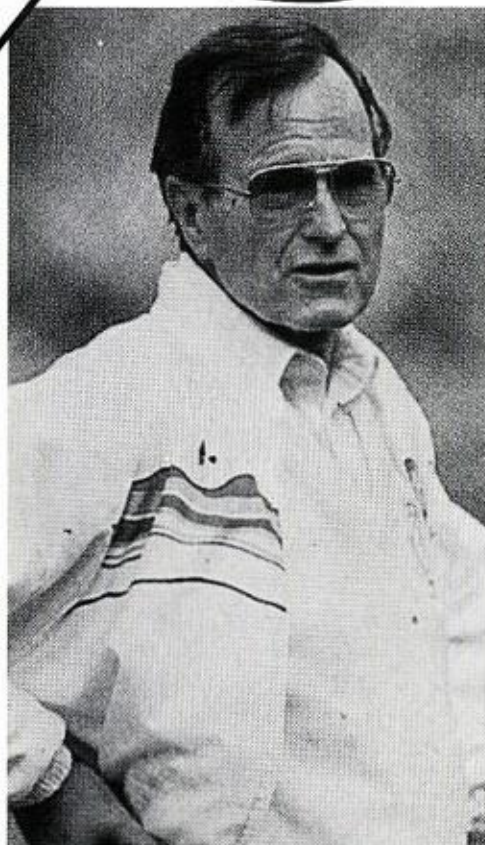

The summit talks between Reagan and Gorbachev inspired a hope for peace between the U.S. and the Soviet Union. Nuclear arms reduction was their primary goal.

CURRENT EVENTS

U . S .

Vice president George Bush takes time out from his rigorous presidential campaign to play a game of tennis. Early primary victories made Bush the favorite to win the Republican nomination.

As is true every four years, the Iowa political cartoonists had a "field day" with the many candidates running in this year's election. The Iowa caucuses kicked off the 1988 presidential campaign.

Although it can't be considered as "the most important news story of the year," it may have been the "most talked about." The NFL players' strike was the topic of conversation in the fall of 1987.

Jessica McClure's ("Baby Jessica") will to live touched the hearts of Americans. After she fell into a Texas well, the dramatic rescue efforts received heavy national publicity.

Did anybody notice? Not too much attention was paid to the 200th anniversary celebration of the U.S. Constitution.

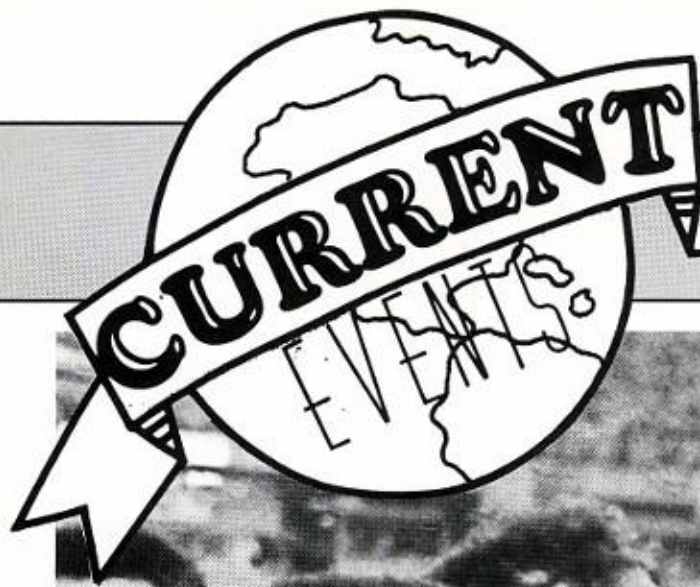

The "Iran-gate" hearings captured the nation's attention during the summer of 1987. Oliver North attracted the most attention and was characterized as both "hero" and "criminal."

Although Spuds Mackenzie has a mild personality, the pit bulls received a ton of negative media because of some vicious attacks on people and other dogs.

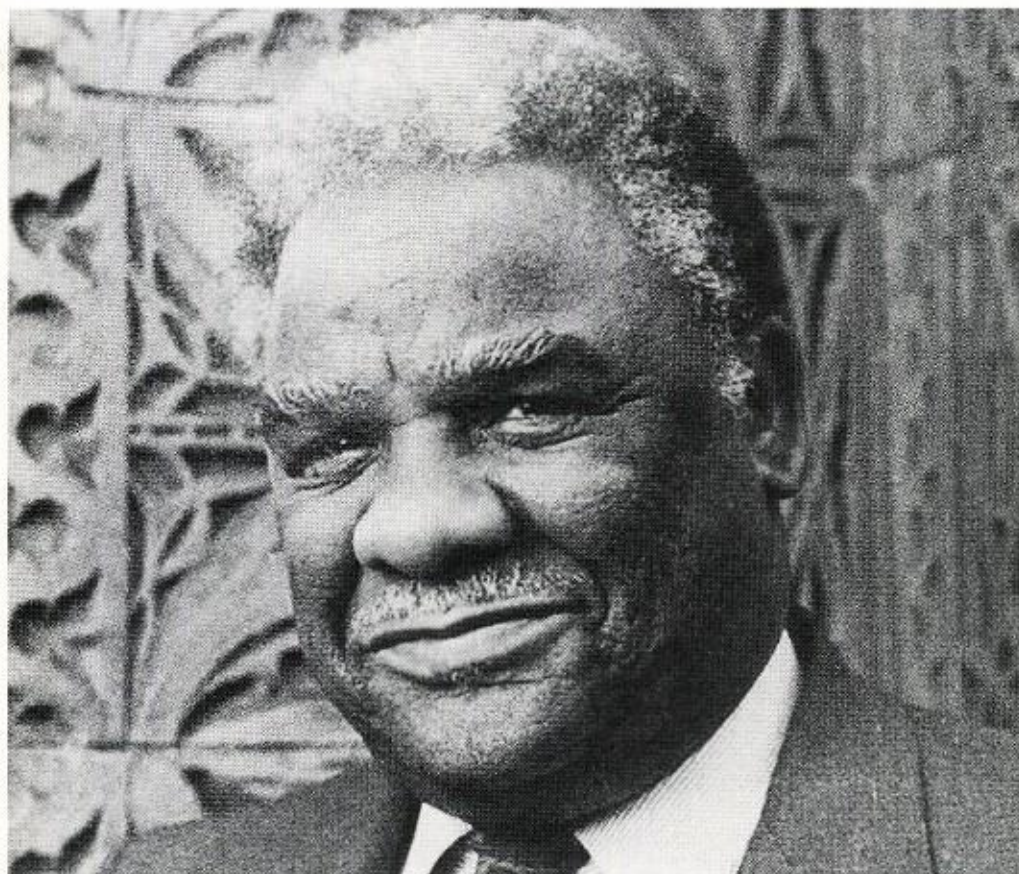

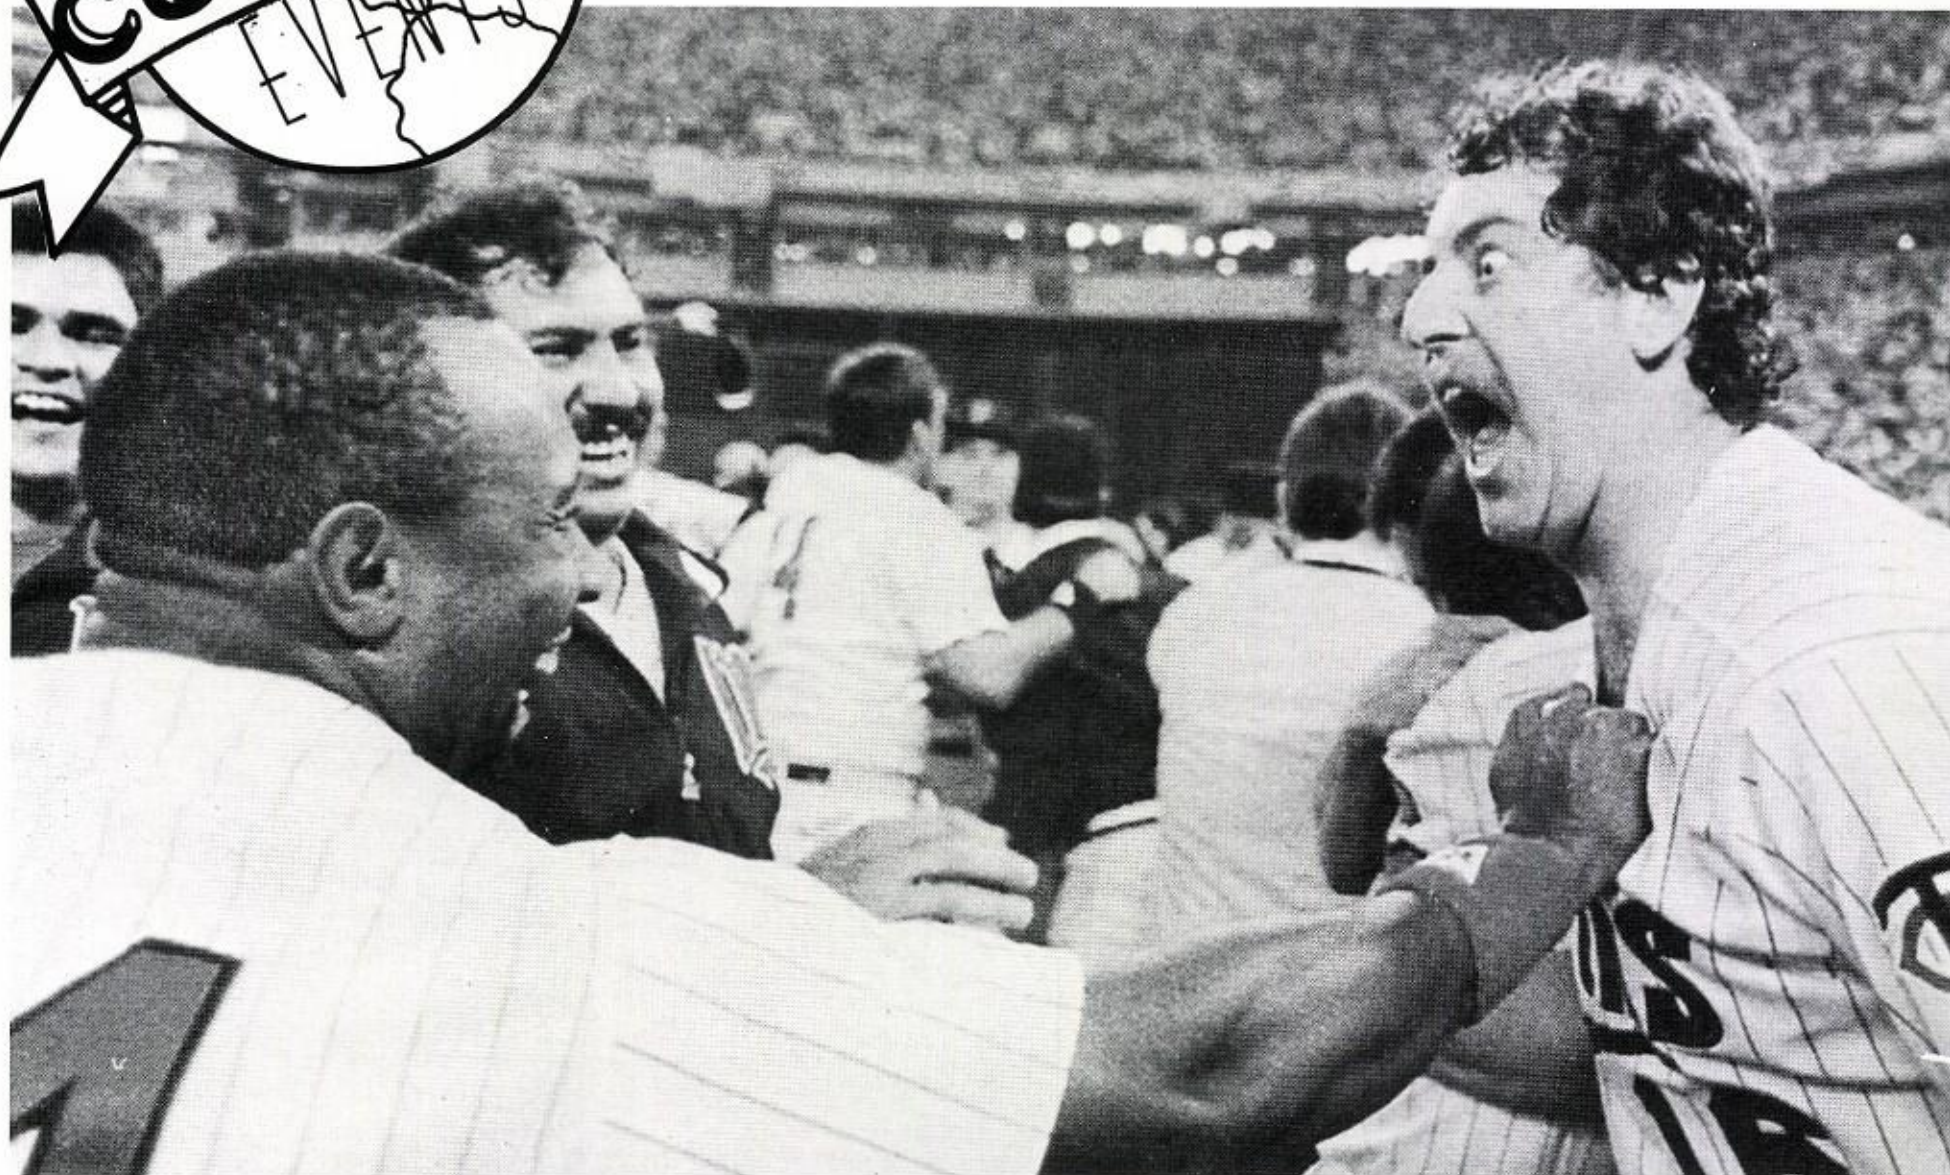

The third time's a charm! Two of Reagan's Supreme Court nominees, Robert Bork and Douglas Ginsburg, failed to get confirmation. His third nominee, Anthony Kennedy, received an overwhelming Senate approval.

The first black mayor of Chicago, Harold Washington, died during his second term of office from a sudden heart attack. It left the city of Chicago in shock. He was replaced by Alderman Eugene Sawyer.

Surprise, surprise! The Minnesota Twins stunned the baseball world by winning the American League pennant and then upsetting the St. Louis Cardinals in the World Series.

Jim and Tammy-Faye Bakker, had more to worry about than their ministry. They had to deal with accusations made by other television evangelists.

M A K E R S

L.A. Law stars Corbin Bernsen, Harry Hamlin, and Jimmy Smits have more in common than a television series. They have their looks. Their series proved to be one of television's most popular.

Gary Hart's misadventure made him the butt of countless political jokes and cartoons. His "extra-curricular" activities did great damage to his presidential candidacy.

Illinois' Paul Simon was an early favorite for the Democratic presidential nomination; however, his failure to win an early primary made his nomination highly unlikely.

Two blockbuster movie hits were "Fatal Attraction" (starring Glenn Close and Michael Douglas) and "Broadcast News" (with Albert Brooks and Holly Hunter); however, the ever-popular "Cos" (Bill Cosby) found his "Leonard Part 6" to be a total flop.

The Honey-mooners' Jackie Gleason died at age 71.

Movie and television star Pee Wee Herman.

The word for today is . . .

COLOPHON

2350 copies of the 1988 AEGIS were printed by Walsworth Publishing Company in Marceline, Missouri, under the direction of sales representative Les Kuehl and in-plant advisor Lisa Collins.

The yearbook was sold in October for $10.00 and in January for $11.00.

The cover consisted of full color artwork, designed by plant artist Ann Scheible based on an idea by Michael DeCastro. It was printed on white linen with plastiglo laminate. Type styles used on cover, backbone, endsheets and division pages included Letraset Benguiat Bold Condensed, Vegas, and Van Dijk.

The endsheets were printed on 65 lb. white paper. Various Pantone colors were used. Artwork was produced by Susan Gemmell based on a design by Ann Scheible.

The book was printed on 80 lb. double-coated enamel paper. Folio tabs were designed by Michael DeCastro. Souvenir type was used for body and caption copy throughout the book. Body copy was set in 10 pt. and caption copy in 8 pt.

Photographs on division pages were printed in Engraver's Brown with various overprinted spot colors. Formatt screen #7117 was used for horizontal bands.

The opening and closing sections were designed by Carl Gilmore. Various Formatt lettering styles and screens were used to create headlines and artwork.

The Student Life section was designed by Cathryn Clausing. Michael DeCastro designed the Homecoming pages and created the artwork as well as the "Under Investigation" logo. Headlines throughout the section include Bauhaus and Avant Garde. The music section and logo were designed by Cathryn Clausing. Headlines are in Bookman. The sports section was designed by Susan Smutny. Headlines are in Souvenir Italic. Scoreboard artwork was created by Paul Boeckman. Artwork in the faculty section was created by Diane Miller. Headlines are in Avant Garde Italic. The senior section and logo were designed by Cathryn Clausing. The "Flair" logo is composed of various Formatt lettering styles. "Finishing with" is in Formatt Goudy Heavyface Italic. Headlines are in Century and Letraset Reporter. Process colors were used throughout the section. Underclass headlines are in Souvenir and Formatt Encore. Logos were designed by Tracy Domzalski using Letraset typestyles Banner, Bronx, and Elch.

The Mini-Mag was designed by Susan Gemmell and Sojna Sloan. Spot colors 602 Deep Purple and 803 Aqua were used.

Photo credits go to Root Photography for all portraits, team pictures, and most candid; Mr. Tom Gustafson for candid; Star Publications for many sports candid, and AP for photographs in the current events section.

The staff would like to thank Orion Pictures Corporation for providing us with theme and graphic ideas, Mrs. Lucille Johnson for all the typing, and Paul Boeckman for his artistic contributions.

The 1987 AEGIS earned an All-Columbian Award of first place from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Sandy Aron and Michelle Moncrief are such good friends they are even starting to look alike!

A Year(book) to remember!

Another yearbook has been completed. Remembering this past year, my memories are much the same as the yearbook theme . . . "Something Wild!" Some of the more unforgettable moments would rather be forgotten. Sue Smutny remembers when "I had completed a detailed layout with a lot of artwork and realized a column was one square too skinny. I had to redraw the layout - very near the deadline, of course. Panic soon set in!" Heather Crafton

"Deadline?! . . . Work?! Oh, you mean I have to do something again?"

- Mike DeCastro

recalls "almost forgetting to include four to five pictures in the sophomore section. We had to spend hours redoing most of our work, and it left us with less time to finish our next deadline." These slight problems didn't stop the class from having fun though, and any bad memories quickly disappeared. I especially enjoyed the after school and night meetings in the art room finishing unwritten stories and undrawn layouts. Here the pressure of school was off and we could work in a more relaxed atmosphere. In the end, most deadlines were met

"Yearbook is a small class so you really have to get along with everyone, especially the people on your section. Usually around deadline time at least two fights erupt. Especially between Diane and me."

- Julie Quinn

on time (we were assured a shorter life if they weren't!), the final layouts were sent out, and new ideas for the next masterpiece were starting to take shape. Most importantly, the yearbooks were

"Being a yearbook assistant means distributing 500-600 yearbooks each year at the East Campus, and I couldn't do it without my loyal student staff."

- Mrs. Miller

delivered on time (I hope!). We all believe that everyone will judge the final product as at least a little bit WILD!

- Tracy Domzalski

"The only thing that shows you've taken a regular class is a letter grade. Big deal! In yearbook there's actually something you can look back at and say - I did that."

- Sonja Sloan

"If you're not in this class then you don't realize how much work goes into this #!?! yearbook!"

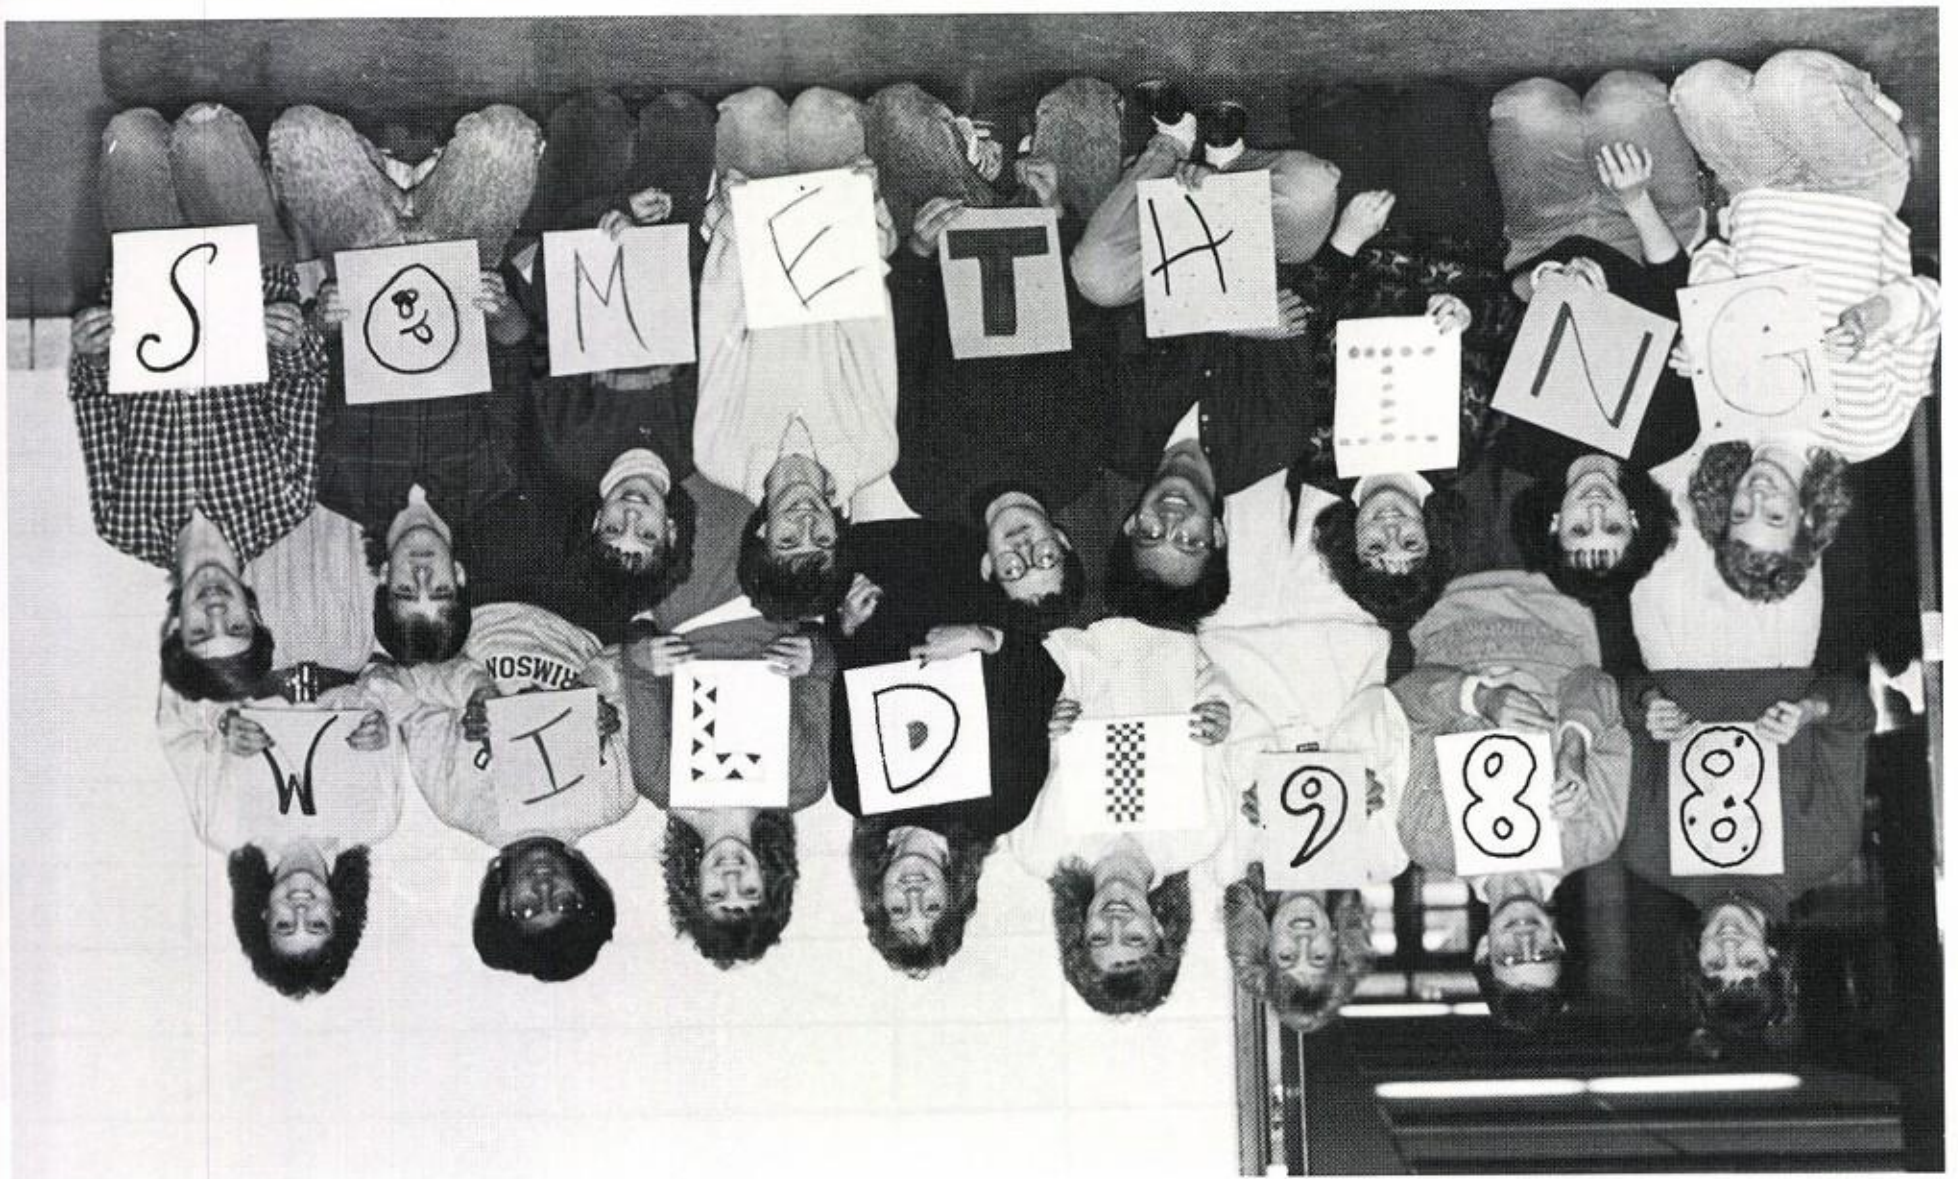

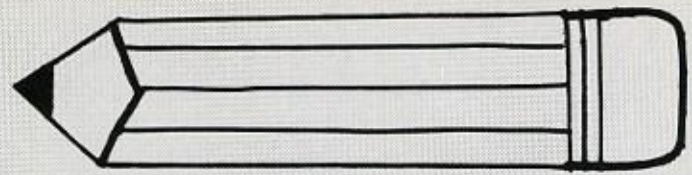

- Cathy Clausing

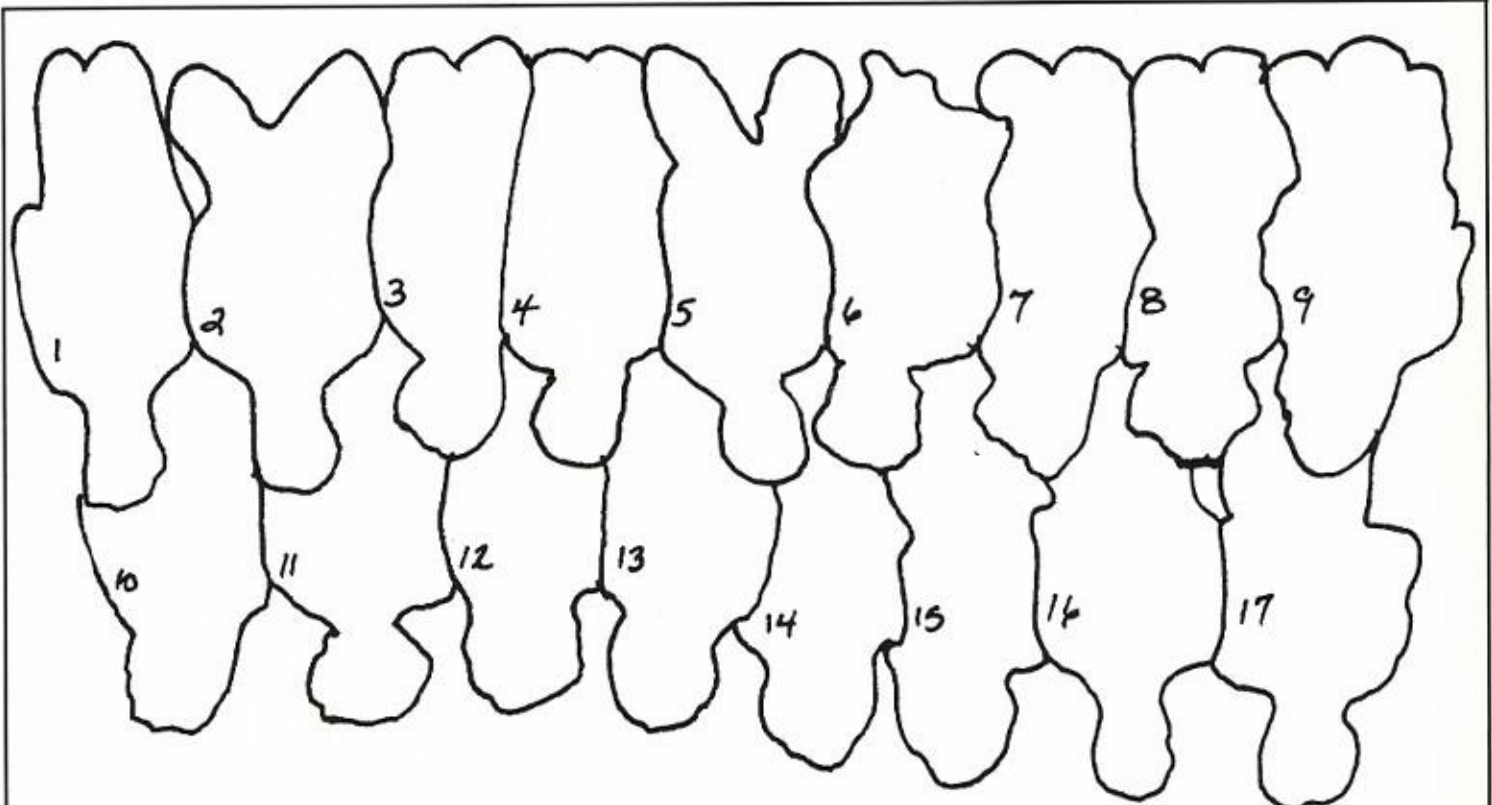

Working on the yearbook staff has one big advantage - getting to choose all the exciting pictures. Here Diane Miller and Susan Gemmell sort out the pictures for the closing section. "Most people like to look at pictures in their yearbook. We get to see all of the ones that do not go in," adds Susan Gemmell.

his year was ... well ... certainly SOMETHING! Some will remember it as something impressive. The varsity soccer team had an impressive season and once again captured the regional championship. Others will look at it as something distinguished.

The always distinguished Marching Knights became the Grand Champions of the Hall of Fame Bowl while in Florida. Juniors may conclude the year as being significant. They lost their right to park in the school's lot, with the privilege being reserved for lottery winning seniors. With heads always turning and news being made, this year was definitely Something Wild.

— Susan Gemmell

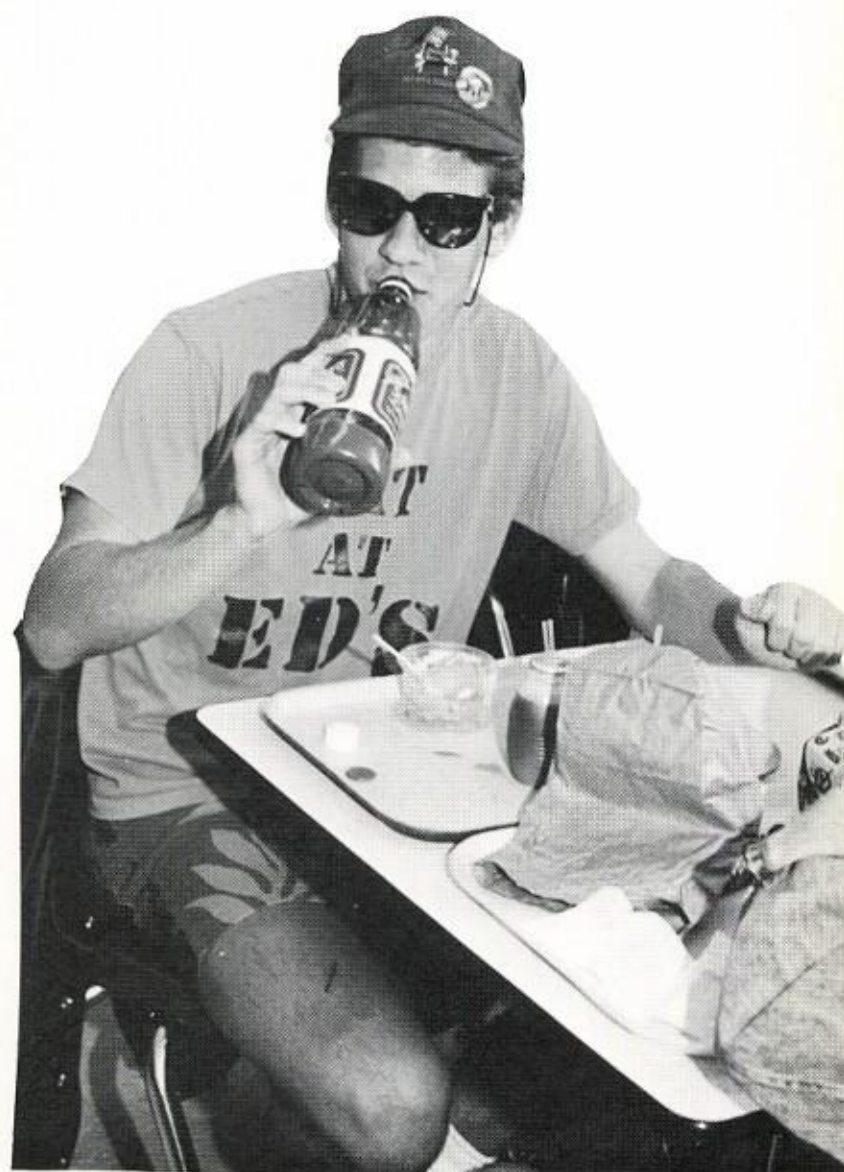

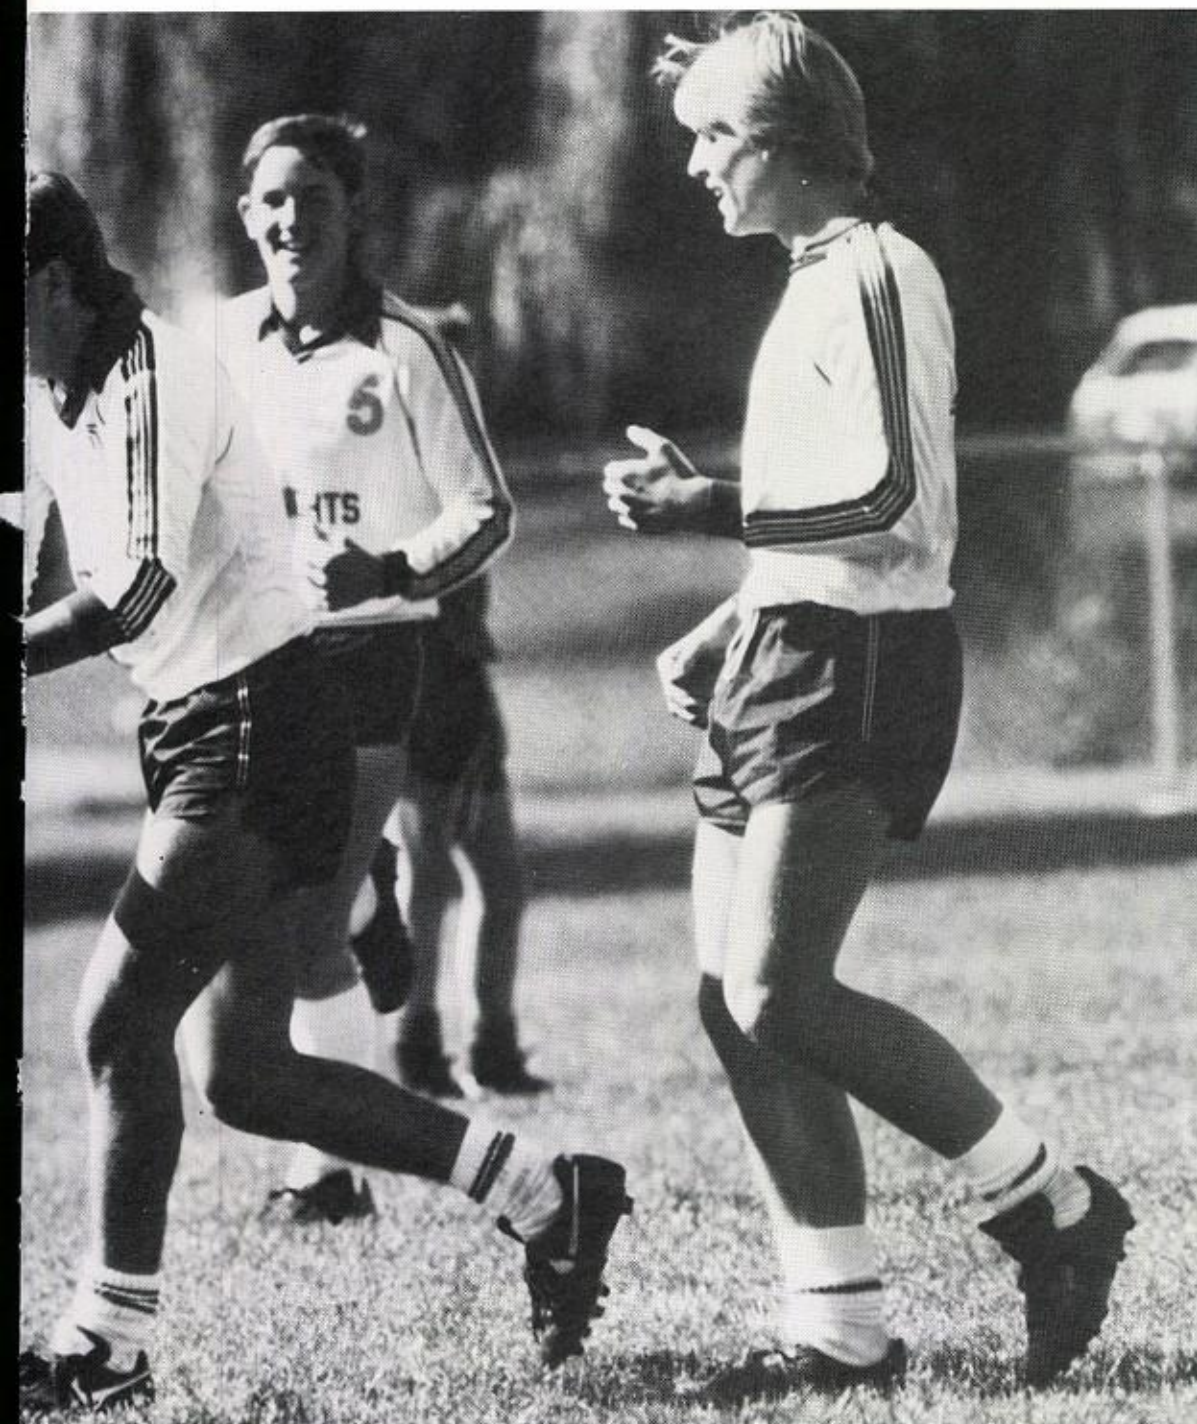

Years later Chris Sanders will still remember his "unforgettable" year of helping in the cafeteria.

On-field celebrations could be seen often during the 1987 soccer season. Celebrating another goal are Mark Powell, Dan Chirico, Tim Nudd and Doug Schmeckpeper.

Showing that "dignified" doesn't always mean "serious" are Marching Knights Heather Dekrey, Amy Damrow, Sue Keller, and Tony Sacco.

Something friendly . . . smiles come easily to friends Heather Musch and Chris Keith.

Students such as senior Mark Powell were instrumental in creating this year's yearbook theme . . . Something Wild.
